U. S. to Seek Extradition

France Denies Asylum Given Indicted Spies

Paris, July 9 (AP)—Russian-born George Zlatovski, indicted in New York on a charge of spying for the Soviet Union, declared today France has granted political asylum to him and his wife Jane. A government spokesman denied it.

The spokesman, a foreign ministry official, said the question of political asylum would come up only if and when the United States formally asks extradition of the couple.

Request Under Way
The United States has not yet presented such a request, though official moves are under way. The case was being discussed in both the U. S. Embassy and the French foreign ministry. The question is complicated because extradition action also would involve the French justice and interior ministries.

As the spokesman outlined procedure: As soon as a request is in hand, the case will be handed to a "chambre mise en accusation," the rough equivalent of a grand jury. The United States must present all the facts, as in any other request for extradition. The court will have three weeks to decide the case.

Former U. S. Officer
Zlatovski, 47, a naturalized American who formerly was a lieutenant in U. S. Army Intelligence, declared in an interview at his Left Bank apartment: "The French have given us political asylum. We are their

8 Experts Appointed to Look Into State's Parole System

Albany, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—As an outgrowth of the Joseph (Socks) Lanza controversy, Gov. Harriman today appointed an eight-member committee of experts to investigate the state's parole system.

The Democratic governor said the unit would "review the structure, practices and procedure" of the parole system and its relations with the state correction department.

The committee, Harriman said, will then "recommend to me such administrative changes and legislation as they consider necessary and desirable to improve the parole program."

Harriman said the unit would set about its task "promptly" so that it could return its findings in time for action at the next regular session of the Legislature, in January, 1958.

Mathias F. Correa of Rye, former U. S. attorney for the southern district of New York, was named chairman. He is a partner in a Manhattan law firm.

Harriman's move followed by a week an interim report on the Lanza affair from the governor's acting investigation Commissioner Arthur L. Reuter. The report was sharply critical of parole practices and recommended "an exhaustive study" of the system.

However, Harriman had announced in May that he would order an investigation of this nature.

Reuter reported an "absence of any evidence" that political influence helped restore racketeer Lanza to parole. The Harriman-appointed parole commissioner who had judged the Lanza case resigned in the midst of probes by Reuter and the legislature's Republican-controlled watchdog committee. Lanza later was returned to prison.

Reuter maintained in his report that some persons had been paroled although they apparently were not good risks. He said parole supervision was inadequate.

Harriman Announcement
Harriman said in his announcement:

"It should be borne in mind that the objective of parole is to encourage the maximum number of offenders to return to normal life as useful members of society, and at the same time to protect society against the incorrigible."

At the time of the Lanza incident, last winter, Republicans held majority control of the five-member state parole board. The balance shifted to the Harriman appointees last month with designation of Edmond Fitzgerald, a Brooklyn Democrat, to succeed Edward Donovan, Mount Kisco Republican.

Harriman said he had asked

Similar conditional strike action was taken recently by four other guild chapters—at Honesdale, Pa., and Jeffersonville, N. Y., and in Sussex and Warren counties, N. J.

Soviet Press Hints Expulsion Of Trio From Communist Party

Residence Stirs Up Vote Storm Candidate Not In District, Charge

A storm has blown up in Saugerties Central School District over the candidacy of Harry S. Hoffman Jr., for a five-year term on the board of education.

The election of four members of the board will be held at the Saugerties Central School from 12 noon to 9 p. m. Wednesday.

Herb Seeks Re-election
Mr. Hoffman is seeking the position now held by Robert Herb who is a candidate for re-election.

As The Freeman pieces the story together, the Citizens Advisory Committee of the Saugerties Central School District is opposing Hoffman's candidacy on the ground that he is not a resident of the district in which he is a candidate.

Cite 'Agreement'
The Citizens Advisory Committee feels that Hoffman's candidacy violates a "gentleman's agreement" that each district should be represented by a resident of that district.

When the new Saugerties Central District was set up two years ago a formula was adopted for representation on the board of education.

It was decided that the 21 former school districts should be divided into six districts.

District 6 Controversy
The present controversy has arisen over the Hoffman candidacy in District 6 (Asbury, West Camp and Malden).

It is charged by the Citizens Advisory Committee that Hoffman is not a resident of District 6.

Hoffman takes the position that an expanding community such as Saugerties requires revision of district's to meet population shifts and that the stand of the Citizens Advisory Committee should be consistently maintained, an "intolerable situation and can best be remedied by removing the rigidity of the boundaries."

His Explanation
He explains that his own area is "part of a ring of communities outside of, but suburban to the village, Malden is a similar area is short distance away. These communities have common interests and should be represented by the same man."

The Citizens Advisory Committee, on the other hand, feels that the "principle of fair representation for all areas within the district is in jeopardy" in elections Wednesday.

At a recent meeting it was voted unanimously to make every effort to maintain the "system of equal representation"

Bruhn Will Await Appellate Action In Trailer Case

Pending a decision by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court on the constitutionality of the Town of Ulster trailer park ordinance, County Judge Louis G. Bruhn today adjourned until August 13 decision on a motion to dismiss in the Mattie Every case and also on the application to remove the cases from justice's court to county court.

There was pending before Judge Bruhn the question of sufficiency of the information which charged Mattie Every with violation of the town ordinance and also a motion to remove all of the trailer ordinance violation cases to county court. This motion was based on the theory that Justice Harold Macholdt was a member of the town board when the ordinance was approved and adopted.

All Action Stayed
Meanwhile all further action is stayed by an order of Justice Bergan of the Appellate Division, until the Appellate Division hears and determines the question of constitutionality of the ordinance.

All witnesses who have been subpoenaed were directed to return on August 13 at 10 a. m. unless otherwise notified.

John J. Schick, counsel for Mattie Every and other defendants who have been arrested on charges of violating the trailer camp ordinance, stressed before Judge Bruhn that on July 2 Justice Bergan of the Appellate Division had granted a stay pending argument of the appeal before that court on July 22. This stay he said applied to enforcement of the ordinance.

Bruhn Awaits Ruling
Attorney Schick, who with Aaron Klein represents the defendants, said the appeal would be argued in full on July 22. Judge Bruhn said an adjournment (Continued on Page 7, Col. 5)

Vols Convene Thursday 30 Companies Will Parade Saturday

Volunteer firemen from all over Ulster county will flock to the town of Ulster July 11-13 for the 22nd annual convention of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Host company for the three-day affair will be Ulster Hose No. 5.

Approximately 30 companies will be represented in the parade late Saturday afternoon winding up the convention.

The convention will open with a dinner at 6 p. m. in the Lake Katrine School.

At 9 p. m. in the Chambers School auditorium a five-act variety show will be presented, entertainment furnished by Jimmy Daley Attractions.

State Estimate Is $738,000

Eddyville Bridge Job May Start Before Fall

Replacement of the narrow Rondout creek bridge, at Eddyville, with a modern span is on schedule, and work could start this summer or early fall, it was learned today.

Bids on the project, and on 25 other state jobs will be opened in Albany Aug. 8. They will include the rebuilding of section of Route 28 at Margaretville, Delaware county, and two jobs in Greene county.

Finishing R-28 Plans
Plans are nearing completion for reconstruction of several miles of Route 28 in the northwestern area of Ulster county, but it could not be determined today whether bids would be called for before the end of next fall.

Contract approval for the Eddyville bridge could come within 30 days after the opening of bids. The state's estimated cost is $738,000.

Closed After Flood
The bridge, which dates back to horse-and-buggy travel, was damaged in a 1955 flood, and was closed to traffic for several months pending repairs.

A 340-foot, long-hinged, steel arch bridge, with approaches to carry Route 213 over the creek on a new location 300 feet downstream, is now planned by the State Department of Public Works.

It will have a curb-to-curb width of 30 feet, flanked by sidewalks on each side. Construction will involve the building of 38 of a mile of road, including concrete approaches 24 feet wide.

Two Projects for Greene
Total estimated cost of all projects for which bids will be opened at 10:30 a. m., Aug. 8 in the Gov. Alfred E. Smith Building, Albany, is $15,000,000, and two of them will bring improvements in Greene county.

One estimated to cost $220,000 calls for the widening and resurfacing of 5.87 miles of Route 28.

Japs Protest Again

Tokyo, July 9 (AP)—Three hundred leftist Japanese students and labor unionists demonstrated outside the U. S. embassy today in protest against enlargement of the U. S. Air Force's Tachikawa base near Tokyo. There were no disturbances. More than 300 Japanese police kept traffic moving and the demonstrators, after handing a protest to embassy officials, moved on to Tokyo police headquarters to make another protest.

Highland Girl Represents County for Poultry Queen

Barbara Brenner, a 17-year-old 4-H member from Highland, has been selected to represent Ulster county in competition for 1957 New York State Poultry Queen.

Miss Brenner will compete with 4-H girls from several other New York counties and will be judged on poise, personality, grooming, beauty, achievement and poultry knowledge.

She is in Ithaca today, where the judging will take place. This evening Miss Brenner and her mother will be guests of the New York State Poultry Council at a turkey barbecue.

Miss Enid Goethius, Hurley, 1956 New York State Poultry Queen, will reign over the formal ceremony and will crown the 1957 Queen.

Would Be Toughest Decision Action May Pave Way for Trials

Moscow, July 9 (AP)—The Soviet Press hinted strongly today the way is being cleared to expel V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kaganovich from the Soviet Communist party.

The government newspaper Izvestia listed various degrees of punishment which can be invoked against party members who plot against the party's "monolithic unity."

Decision Quoted

Izvestia quoted Lenin and decisions of the 10th party congress of 1921 to show that "plots against party unity" are liable to punishment up to and including expulsion from the lowest ranks of the Communist party.

Malenkov, former Foreign Minister Molotov and former First Deputy Premier Kaganovich were ousted from the party's ruling body in last week's purge. Malenkov, successor to Stalin as premier, has been singled out for the most severe criticism.

The Government paper declared in a full page discussion: "The 10th Party Congress authorized the central committee, in cases of violation of discipline or revival of factionalism, to use all measures of party retribution up to and including expulsion from the party."

Dissension Scored
"With members of the central committee this includes demotion to candidate members and, in extreme cases, to expulsion from the party."

"The party cannot tolerate those who do not carry out the will of the majority, who do not place the interest of the party above everything else, who try to bring dissension into its ranks and who plot against its unity."

Up to now the party press has been referring to the three and former Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov, demoted along with them, as comrades. This indicated that however low they had fallen, they still were in the party ranks.

Extreme Action
Expulsion is an extreme punishment which would prevent any of the alleged "antiparty" group from participating in any government or party activity. It could even pave the way for a trial for any one or all.

School Districts Will Vote On Budgets, Officers Tonight

Annual meetings will be held this evening in several school districts of the county for election of officers and adoption of a school budget for 1957-58. Taxpayers of the district are urged to attend.

At 7:30 o'clock Union Free School District No. 8, town of Ulster will hold its annual meeting at Chambers School, Albany avenue extension, for election of a board member for five year term to succeed Mrs. Benjamin Emerick whose term expires today. The financial report will be presented by Harold Keator Jr., a trustee, and the budget by Edward F. Dingeldey, president of the board.

Also at 7:30 o'clock this evening Union Free School District No. 4, town of Ulster will hold its annual meeting at Lake Katrine school. The budget will be voted and three new board members will be elected. Present incumbents are Lester V. Felton whose four year term is expiring; Norman Hammond, five year term expiring; Mary Lamaro, whose two year term is unexpired.

Hurley Union Free School District No. 4, Town of Hurley will also hold its annual meeting at 7:30 to adopt a budget and elect three trustees.

Rondout Valley Central School District will hold its meeting at 7:30 o'clock at Kenyonson High School. The proposed budget of $751,048.01 will be presented for approval and four vacancies on the board will be voted. They are Mrs. Myrtle Strong, Stone Ridge, five year term; Elwood Osterhout, Cottekill, five year term; Franklin Kelder, Accord, RFD, three year term, and DeWitt Hasbrouck, High Falls, one year term to fill out the unexpired term caused by the resignation of Irving Feinberg. All board members whose terms are expiring are candidates for re-election. The only other petition duly filed is by J. Richard Shell, Kingston RFD 3, who is seeking the position now held by Mrs. Strong.

At 8:30 o'clock the annual meeting of Central School District No. 1 of the Towns of Olive, Shandaken, Woodstock, Marlboro and Lexington in Greene county, will be held at Onteora Central School. The budget will be presented and the following vacancies are to be filled on the board: Five year term, Fred D. Cure and Maries Kleine; four year term, John S. Haggerty.

Tristate Master Dairymen Would Strike for Prices

Middletown, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—Members of the Chester chapter of the Tristate Master Dairy Farmers Guild have decided on a strike if they fail to receive higher farm prices for milk.

William Dirie, of Callicoon, N. Y., grand master president of the guild, said the strike is "well planned if needed."

Chester chapter spokesman said a strike was voted 35-to-0 at a meeting last night. About 75 members were present.

The call for a strike is conditional on the outcome of expected bargaining meetings between dealer organizations and the Grain Millers Federation, of which the Chester chapter is affiliated.

Dirie said bargaining meetings between the federation and dealer organizations in western New York state are expected to get under way shortly. Demands of the federation, which is bargaining agent for the chapter, were not announced.

Similar conditional strike action was taken recently by four other guild chapters—at Honesdale, Pa., and Jeffersonville, N. Y., and in Sussex and Warren counties, N. J.

CHURCH TO BECOME LIBRARY—Andrew J. Snyder of the Century Cement Manufacturing Co. Inc., Rosendale, has announced that he will buy All Saints' Episcopal Church on the northern side of Main street in the village, contemplating plans to use it for library purposes.

Mr. Snyder considers the church, built in 1876, an architectural gem. It is made of Rosendale cement rock and cement mined in the area. Originally, the stone was blue in color, but has turned to a pleasing brown hue through oxidation over the 81-year period.

Mrs. Coolidge Body Will Be Cremated

Northampton, Mass., July 9—Just as she desired it in her final wish, funeral services tomorrow for Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, widow of the former president, will be quiet and simple.

The funeral of the former first lady, who died early yesterday at the age of 78, will be held at 2 p. m. in Edwards Congregational Church, where services for the late president were held on Jan. 7, 1933.

The body will be cremated Thursday and the ashes will be sent to the hamlet of Plymouth, N. Y., for burial Friday beside the graves of her husband and their son, Calvin, who died at the age of 16 just 33 years ago while Coolidge was in the White House.

The only surviving son, John, now 51, said there would be no callers and requested that no flowers be sent. Friends were urged instead to make donations, if they wish, to the Heart Fund.

Two Thefts Reported

Two thefts were reported to the police last night. Mrs. Robert Cockburn, of 51 West Chester street, reported at 8:06 p. m., that a wallet containing $30 and personal items was taken from a third-floor room in Kingston Hospital. Elizabeth Harlow, of 131 Pine Grove avenue, reported at 6:55 p. m., that a hub cap was taken from her car while it was in the John street parking lot.

State Fair Will Devote Day to Firemen Aug. 31st
"Volunteer Firemen's Day" will be observed at the New York State Fair at Syracuse Saturday, Aug. 31, when volunteer firemen will be honored for the efforts they make throughout the year in protection of public property. Sponsored by the State Fair officials and the State Division of Safety and the New York State Bureau of Fire, the day will feature a parade starting at 2 p. m. In the parade will be 30 bands, a number of fire companies and auxiliaries. Competing for honors and prizes will be many of the companies and musical groups. One of the prizes is for $400 in cash and there will be 33 trophy awards. During the afternoon there will be demonstrations of fire fighting techniques on the fair grounds. Presidents of companies attending the event will be guests at a luncheon at Harriet May Mills building on the fair grounds and Director of Safety Michael Predergast will be the guest speaker.

Ulster Park

Ulster Park, July 9—The next meeting of Ulster Grange will be held Wednesday, July 17, at 8 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Gendreau entertained a number of guests at a picnic supper on their lawn July 4.

Just after he crossed into Chechoslovakia, Khrushchev made a brief speech. But he pointedly refrained from mentioning the Kremlin shakeup.

Basis is Broadening
There was a new high point of sensationalism in the charges in the home front press, but the basis of the accusations appeared to be broadening.

Red Star, organ of Marshal Georgi Zhukov's ministry of defense, used harsh words. Zhukov was promoted from alternate to full membership in the ruling party presidium in the shakeup.

Red Star accused the ousted leaders of "the greatest crime against the motherland and its future generations." It said they "tried to undermine the foundation of its industry and agriculture." Another Red Star article said Molotov, Malenkov and Kaganovich "proved to be political intriguers who cared nothing for the interests of the party and people."

Cottickil Man Fined

Kenneth McFarland, 18, of Cottickil, charged with speeding July 4 on the Boulevard, was fined $15 by Special City Judge Harry Gold today.

Zhukov Called Second Man in Soviet Control

Washington, July 9 (AP)—Top U. S. officials, in a new assessment of the shake-up in the Russian high command, have concluded that Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov now stands as the second most powerful man in the Soviet Union.

At the moment, they believe he is fully supporting the top man, party chief, Nikita Khrushchev.

They seem inclined now to credit Zhukov with a possibly decisive role in crushing the challenge to Khrushchev's No. 1 position during the stormy Kremlin developments of the past two weeks.

Zhukov, as a representative of the Red Army, they believe, can be expected to play an increasingly important role, especially now that he has been elevated to full membership in the party presidium. This amounts to an amazing comeback for the Soviet war hero who until a little more than four years ago was in effect exiled by Stalin to a relatively obscure army command in the Crimea.

Russia Insists Test Halt for 2-Year Period

London, July 9 (AP)—Brushing aside the U. S. proposal for a 10-month ban on H-bomb tests, Russia insisted yesterday they be suspended for at least two years and that an East-West formula be worked out completely renouncing nuclear weapons.

Russia's Valerian Zorin rejected key points of the latest U. S. proposals in a 90-minute speech before the five-nation UN Disarmament Subcommittee.

Taken aback by the stiffening in the Soviet attitude, western delegates canceled today's session so they could study Zorin's remarks.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd termed the speech disappointing while Jules Moch of France said it "seemed propagandist."

One U. S. official said the speech would disappoint anyone looking for concessions from the Kremlin. But he contended that at least Zorin took no backward step.

Four Fire Calls Are Answered Monday

A fire in rubbish at the rear of the former Barmann brewery property early yesterday afternoon kept firemen busy for nearly two hours.

Three other calls were for grass, rubbish and a chimney fire.

Wiltwyck station answered the call at 1:56 p. m., to check the blaze near the Barmann property, and a hydrant stream was used. Firemen left the area at 3:19 p. m.

A call at 2:20 p. m. was for another rubbish blaze at the rear of Kingston Cold Storage, Albany avenue. Engine 1, Central station, checked it with a booster line.

Cornell station checked a grass fire off Catherine street shortly after 4 p. m., and a call at 7:50 p. m., was for a chimney fire in a house occupied by William Enbree, 537 Albany avenue. Central, Wiltwyck and Wicks responded.

Tillson

Tillson, July 9—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Novara celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday evening, July 6, at their home in Tillson. A lawn party was held, with approximately 100 guests attending.

The dance scheduled for July 12, sponsored by the Tillson Teen-agers, has been postponed until Friday, July 19. The block dance will be held on Perrine's Bridge road, starting at 8 p. m. In case of rain, the affair will be held at the school. Music will be furnished by Floyd Barringer and his orchestra.

The Tillson Reformed Church Sunday school class picnic has been postponed until Saturday, Aug. 3, at which time the children will go to Tillson Lake for the annual picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Chetta are vacationing here during the summer. Mr. Chetta is assistant district attorney of Queens.

The officers and members of the Tillson volunteer fire company have expressed their appreciation to all those attending the annual carnival held on the firegrounds over the July 4 holiday weekend. The event was very successful, and the funds raised will be used for the benefit of the company.

Bard Rumble

New York (AP)—Shakespeare has "special magic" as a preventive of juvenile delinquency, says theatrical producer Joseph Papp. "We've played the bard several times in so-called 'tension areas' of the city and been warned by officials to expect trouble," he explains. "But we've never had a single incident. A couple of times we know teenage bands came to a performance looking for mischief. Instead they've stayed to watch the play. A Shakespeare audience creates an aura of respect." This summer the group led by Papp is giving a series of 50 free performances of the bard's work in parks all over Gotham.

John J. Muccio, of North Providence, R. I., was named first United States ambassador to Iceland in 1953.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 9 (AP)—The stock market paused for breath early this afternoon, backing away a bit from its newest 1957 top.

Pivotal issues lost fractions to 1 or 2 points in moderately active trading. There were a few gainers of a point or more.

The market was higher at the start and the high-speed ticker tape fell briefly behind the pace of transactions in the early rush of trading.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 20 cents to $186.90 with the industrials down 50 cents, the rails down 20 cents and the utilities unchanged.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were mixed in moderate trading.

U. S. government bonds eased in slow dealings over the counter.

Low Pressure Area Noted in Canal Zone

Miami, Fla., July 9 (AP)—The Miami Weather Bureau today reported presence of an area of "below normal pressure" in the Panama Canal Zone but said other weather conditions are normal in the tropical Atlantic, Caribbean Sea and Gulf of Mexico.

The weather bureau said the low pressure area has given no evidence of wind circulation and there is no indication of the development of a hurricane.

AERIAL ROUNDUP—Cowboys took to the airways to herd hundreds of storm-stranded cattle out of the waterlogged marshes of Cameron (La.) Parish in the aftermath of Hurricane Audrey. Occasionally the 'copter cowboys resorted to "Operation Cattlelift" to remove some of the stranded cattle, particularly calves. The animals were picked up in rope slings (above) and transported to the nearest highway. Ranchers reported several hundred head had been saved by the use of the helicopters.

New York City Produce Market

New York, July 9 (AP)—(State Dept. of Agr. and Mkts.) Beans held steady, mushrooms were firm and celery sold lower today in the wholesale fruit and vegetable market. The first Hudson valley corn arrived. Trading was slow and supplies were moderate.

The market was steady for most small fruits.

Heat Wave

Calvert City, Ky. (P)—Mayor H. V. Duckett was hot under the collar. Somebody stole the air conditioner from his office.

Among the first to offer sympathy was Robert Arnold, a real estate man. When Arnold got back to his office, he found someone had stolen his air conditioner.

Senator Claims Big Support for UN Police Force

Washington, July 9 (P)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) claimed overwhelming congressional support today for creation of a permanent United Nations police force "as a vital step to maintaining world peace."

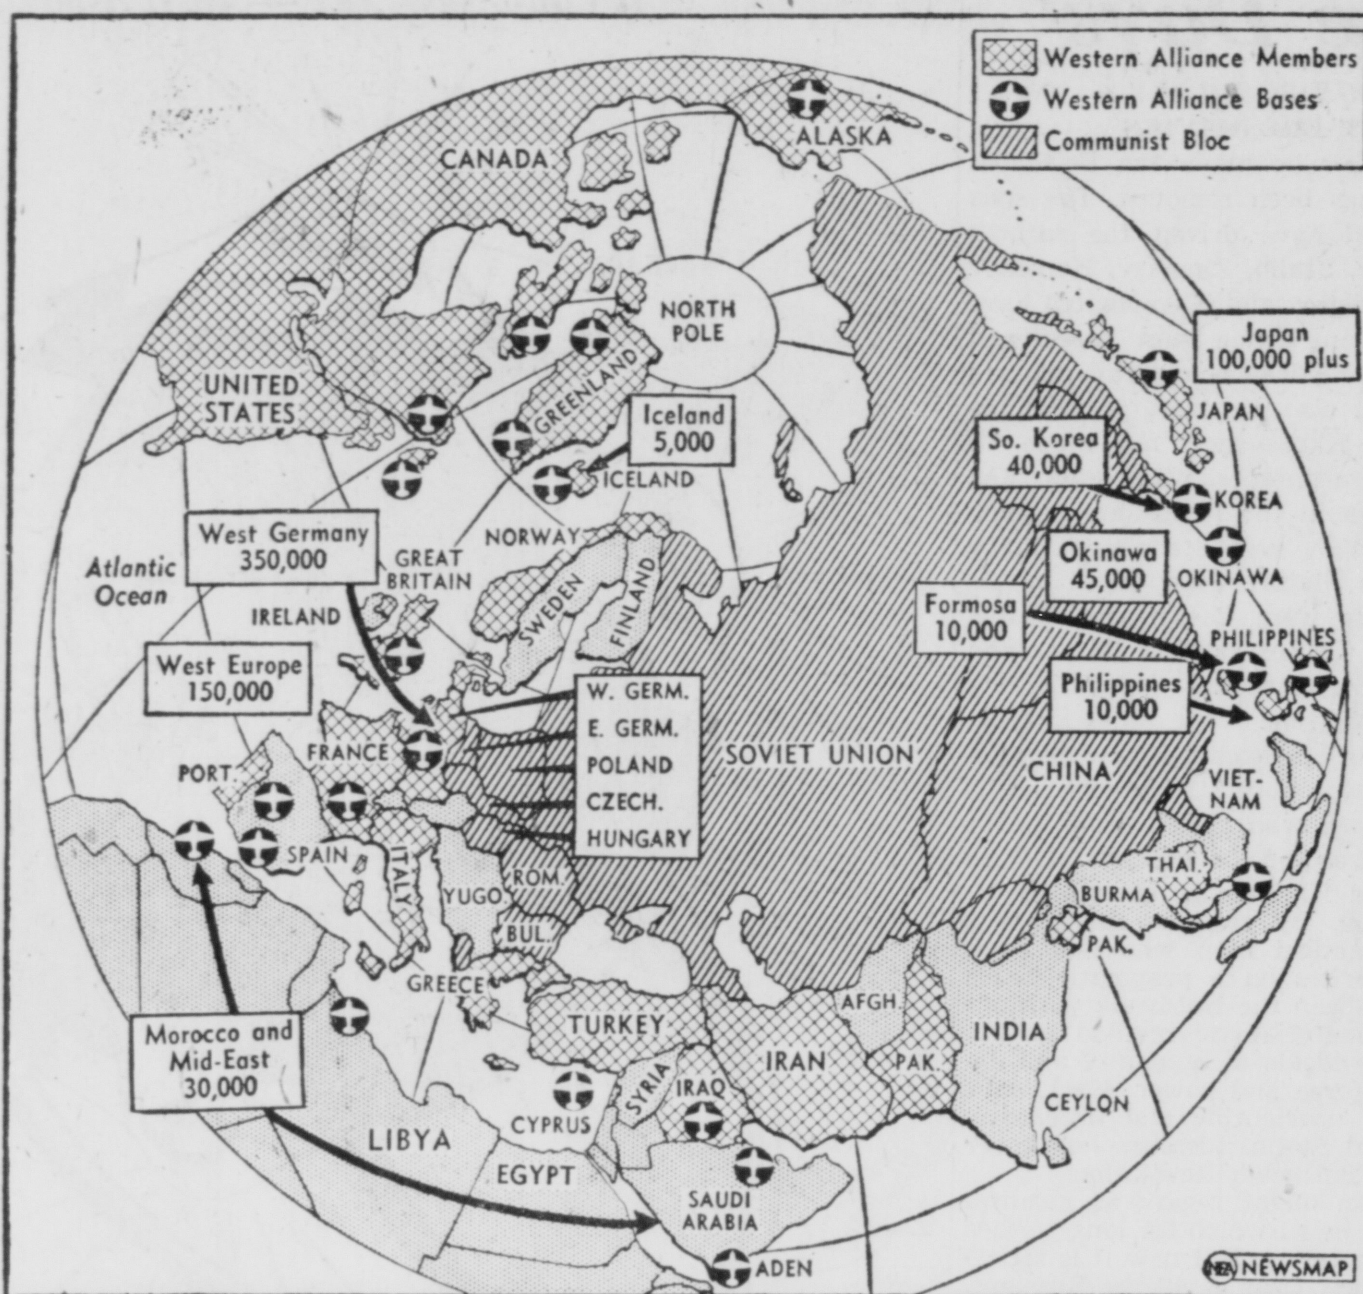

He said he will ask the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to approve today a proposal by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) for Senate and House backing of such a permanent UN force.

Sparkman, in a separate interview, said the UN emergency force now functioning in the Middle East "proved the effectiveness of an international force in areas of tension."

"I believe that such a force could be useful in other situations," he said. "An enlarged and permanent force should be set up to be at the beck and call of the UN for putting down brush fires wherever they occur." Sparkman added:

"Even the existence of such a force might have persuaded the Russians to refrain from their brutal invasion of Hungary."

Parfaits and mousses usually have the same base—whipped heavy cream.

YANKS FAR FROM HOME—The recent announcement of a sizable cutback in U.S. military forces abroad spotlighted the tremendous number of Americans and their dependents now stationed overseas, outside of the regular diplomatic groups. There are nearly 795,000 of them, of whom 619,776 are military personnel on active duty. These have 109,731 dependents with them. Numbers on Newsmap above indicate the number of military personnel in various countries, including their dependents.

Seeks Parole Again

Springfield, Ill., July 9 (P)—Attorneys for Nathan Leopold, imprisoned since 1924 for the thrill slaying of a teen-age Chicago boy, prepared today to plead for his parole. It will be his fourth bid for parole since 1953. The 52-year-old Leopold, serving an 85-year sentence in Stateville Prison in Joliet, will not appear before the board. The record of the savage murder of Bobby Franks, 14, by Leopold and his now dead colleague, Richard Loeb, both brilliant university students and sons of wealthy families will be unveiled once again in Leopold's latest effort to win freedom from prison. Loeb was slain in prison by another inmate nearly 20 years ago.

THE FOUR-DAY ITCH

It is estimated that a record-breaking 83 million Americans, or 22 million families, will spend more than three billion dollars on vacations this year.

Yet the sad fact is that countless millions of these vacationers will find their dreams of happy hours spoiled a bit by the "four-day itch."

This is an ailment, unknown to medical science, which usually strikes on the fourth day of vacation. Symptoms can be observed in all members of the family.

Dad will start muttering about the mut-tonhead who has taken over his office chores, or fret about the customers he could be calling on. He itches to get back to the grind.

Though Mom probably won't admit it, she feels the same longing. She misses the bridge club, and she can't see the mountains for those familiar mounds of dirty clothes around the house. Moreover, she's discovered that the "conveniences" of the summer cottage aren't so convenient.

The thing spreads to the kids. They complain the drinking water tastes like distilled carpet tacks. They miss their neighborhood friends. And they worry that Queenie, who's been left at the kennels, will spitefully starve herself to death.

Still, you can bet they'll all go away next year and, according to the trend, stay longer.

Why? There are lots of reasons. National prosperity is one. Improved highway facilities is another. Enticing installment plans help to spread vacation costs, and industry believes more and more that longer vacations often boost productivity.

The biggest reason of all would seem to be that the "four-day itch" to return home isn't nearly so bothersome as the "50-week itch" to get away.

"Mao Admits Red Mistakes"—so reads a recent headline. He did not, however, indicate that he knows the most serious Communist mistake is the tyrannical nature of its leadership.

FOR MORE TEACHERS

At this time of year, school and school problems seem somewhat remote. That does not make the problems lessen or go away. When fall comes, that hardy perennial known as the teacher shortage will again be in disturbingly full bloom. Two recent reports help show the way toward solution of this tenacious problem.

Various attempts have been made to attract college graduates into teaching though they have not had the usual training in education. Many professional educators have entertained doubts as to how effective such teachers might be. Now a study made at Temple University in Philadelphia indicates that they are a match for teachers who have gotten into the profession through routine channels.

This offers much hope for communities which are having trouble getting enough teachers. It indicates that many college graduates, some of them perhaps mothers whose children are grown, could successfully fill gaps in teaching staffs.

The other study we have in mind concerns a school in which volunteers, including a number of mothers, in effect expanded the local teaching staff by taking over many of the non-teaching jobs that teachers often are expected to perform. They distributed materials, read stories, collected milk money, prepared attendance reports, supervised class trips and performed many other routine school chores. As a result, the teachers were able to devote themselves exclusively to teaching.

This, too, is a promising development. It has been successful in a number of schools, and there is no reason why the system cannot be adopted in many others. Though these two reports offer no cure-all for the teacher shortage, they do indicate that an imaginative, determined approach to the problem can go a long way toward solving it.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE LAST BOLSHEVIKS

And now everyone who made the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917 has been removed. The sons have taken over and have driven the fathers away. Lenin, Trotsky, Stalin, Zinoviev, Kamenov are dead and now Molotov and Kaganovich have been driven out and put under house arrest and possibly they too will be dead before this appears in print. Malenkov is also removed, perhaps because he reminded Khrushchev too much of Stalin. They were comrades. Malenkov and Khrushchev, comrades in the immediate entourage of Stalin. Malenkov was Stalin's secretary and Khrushchev was Stalin's executioner in the Ukraine. But then, so were Caesar and Brutus friends, friends until Brutus stabbed Caesar and gave Marc Antony the opportunity of delivering a wonderful funeral oration.

And so the Revolution reaches a new stage, a revolution without revolutionists. The technicians have taken over, those who risked nothing but know how to organize and to manage. I once heard a man say that Khrushchev did not represent Marxist idealism. By that he meant that Khrushchev is a practical man who will meet whatever situation arises on a pragmatic basis. But that has always been the Bolshevik position: it is a pragmatic, materialistic method of life which ignores all the ideals of humanity and depends upon science, force and power. Karl Marx despised idealists as unscientific and unrealistic and so did Lenin and Stalin. Idealism has never played a part in the Bolshevik Revolution.

What an American might regard as idealism is the adherence to a belief which for long periods seemed not to get anywhere. But now it is strictly business and the new czar of all the Russians, the master, the dictator, the autocrat, the party boss wears a grey flannel suit like a Madison Avenue huckster and he does a show for the Columbia Broadcasting television. And he drinks vodka and Russian champagne (plui) like a peasant on a holiday and when he is drunk, he talks tough and frightens half the world—the other half that he has not yet mastered. He can frighten them because he has the bomb, too.

So there are those in Washington who are still speculating on the prospect of something good coming out of this internal revolution in Russia, a quarrel within the Presidium over policy, a quarrel that forced Khrushchev to show his hand, to show that he only down-graded Stalin because he intended to be like Stalin, a single master who would tolerate no dissent, no difference of opinion, even when those who differed had always, up to now, been his superiors in service, in revolutionary activity, in risk and sacrifice, in historic stature.

Since the Russian Revolution established the Bolshevik regime, one man has ruled. First it was Lenin; then it was Stalin; now it is Khrushchev. There was, of course, contests for power, but the winner usually killed off those who challenged him. Stalin killed off nearly all of the old Bolsheviks. Among the handful that remained, Molotov and Kaganovich were the most consistently successful in remaining alive and in office. Molotov handled Stalin's foreign affairs; Kaganovich handled all the big industrial operations. Molotov was a hard-bitten Bolshevik who found little to smile about in this life; Kaganovich was Stalin's brother-in-law and a Jew besides, the only Jew remaining in the upper echelons of the Russian government.

Khrushchev, among his other vices, is outspoken anti-Jew and supports the Arabs against Israel. He has also extirpated Jewish cultural institutions wherever he has been able to. So there is no reason why he should permit Stalin's brother-in-law and a Jew to boot to survive.

And so Russian history goes its course. Stalin lessened the days of Lenin; Khrushchev lessened the days of Stalin. Always a despot seizes power and soon he sits on the throne of Ivan the Terrible and Catherine the Great and men die because despots always prefer new crews, crews of younger men, without rank or title, men who can remember to be grateful for small favors and who will show no independence.

Why should we bail these rascals out? What is happening shows that there is plenty of trouble in Russia. Why should we help them out of their difficulties by making compacts with them? Why should we do anything to help Khrushchev, the butcher of the Ukraine, or Zhukov, the butcher of Hungary? (Copyright, 1957, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Lack of Vitamin A Seems

A Cause of Night Blindness

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

Today's first inquiry deals with vision.
Q—What is night blindness and is there any cure for it?—F. L. N.

A—Night blindness is usually defined as the inability to see well in a dim light. In some instances this seems to be the result of a deficiency of Vitamin A in the diet and great improvement may take place if it is given in suitable quantities.

Q—A trend is having periods of amnesia lasting from a few minutes to an hour or so. The spells seem to be lasting longer. This aged person was struck by lightning nearly 30 years ago and was ill for three weeks at that time. He was also a heavy drinker until several months ago.—Mrs. R.

A—It is extremely difficult even to guess at an explanation for these losses of memory without much more information. It is probably that they do reflect damage to some portion of the brain, however. The problem is to find whether this is an old damage or the effect of something new, such as a brain tumor or infection. It will perhaps take many tests and extreme skill to find out what is at fault.

Q—Is it true that rheumatic fever often follows infectious hepatitis?—Reader.

A—I don't think so. Rheumatic fever usually follows a streptococcus infection of the throat; infectious hepatitis is caused by a virus.

Q—I am writing to ask about the advisability of allowing food to remain overnight in little aluminum pots and pans.—Mrs. L. B.

A—The subject of possible danger to health from cooking in aluminum containers has been extensively investigated. It is reliably reported that no harm is done. However, I should question the desirability of leaving food in aluminum pots or pans—or any other container—for too long.

Q—What is the usual time that one can become pregnant after the cessation of menstruation at the menopause?—Mrs. L.

A—This question keeps coming up time and time again. Physicians are reluctant to answer specifically since there have been many surprises. Nevertheless, it is said that pregnancy is unlikely after the age of 50 and more than one year after complete cessation of the menses.

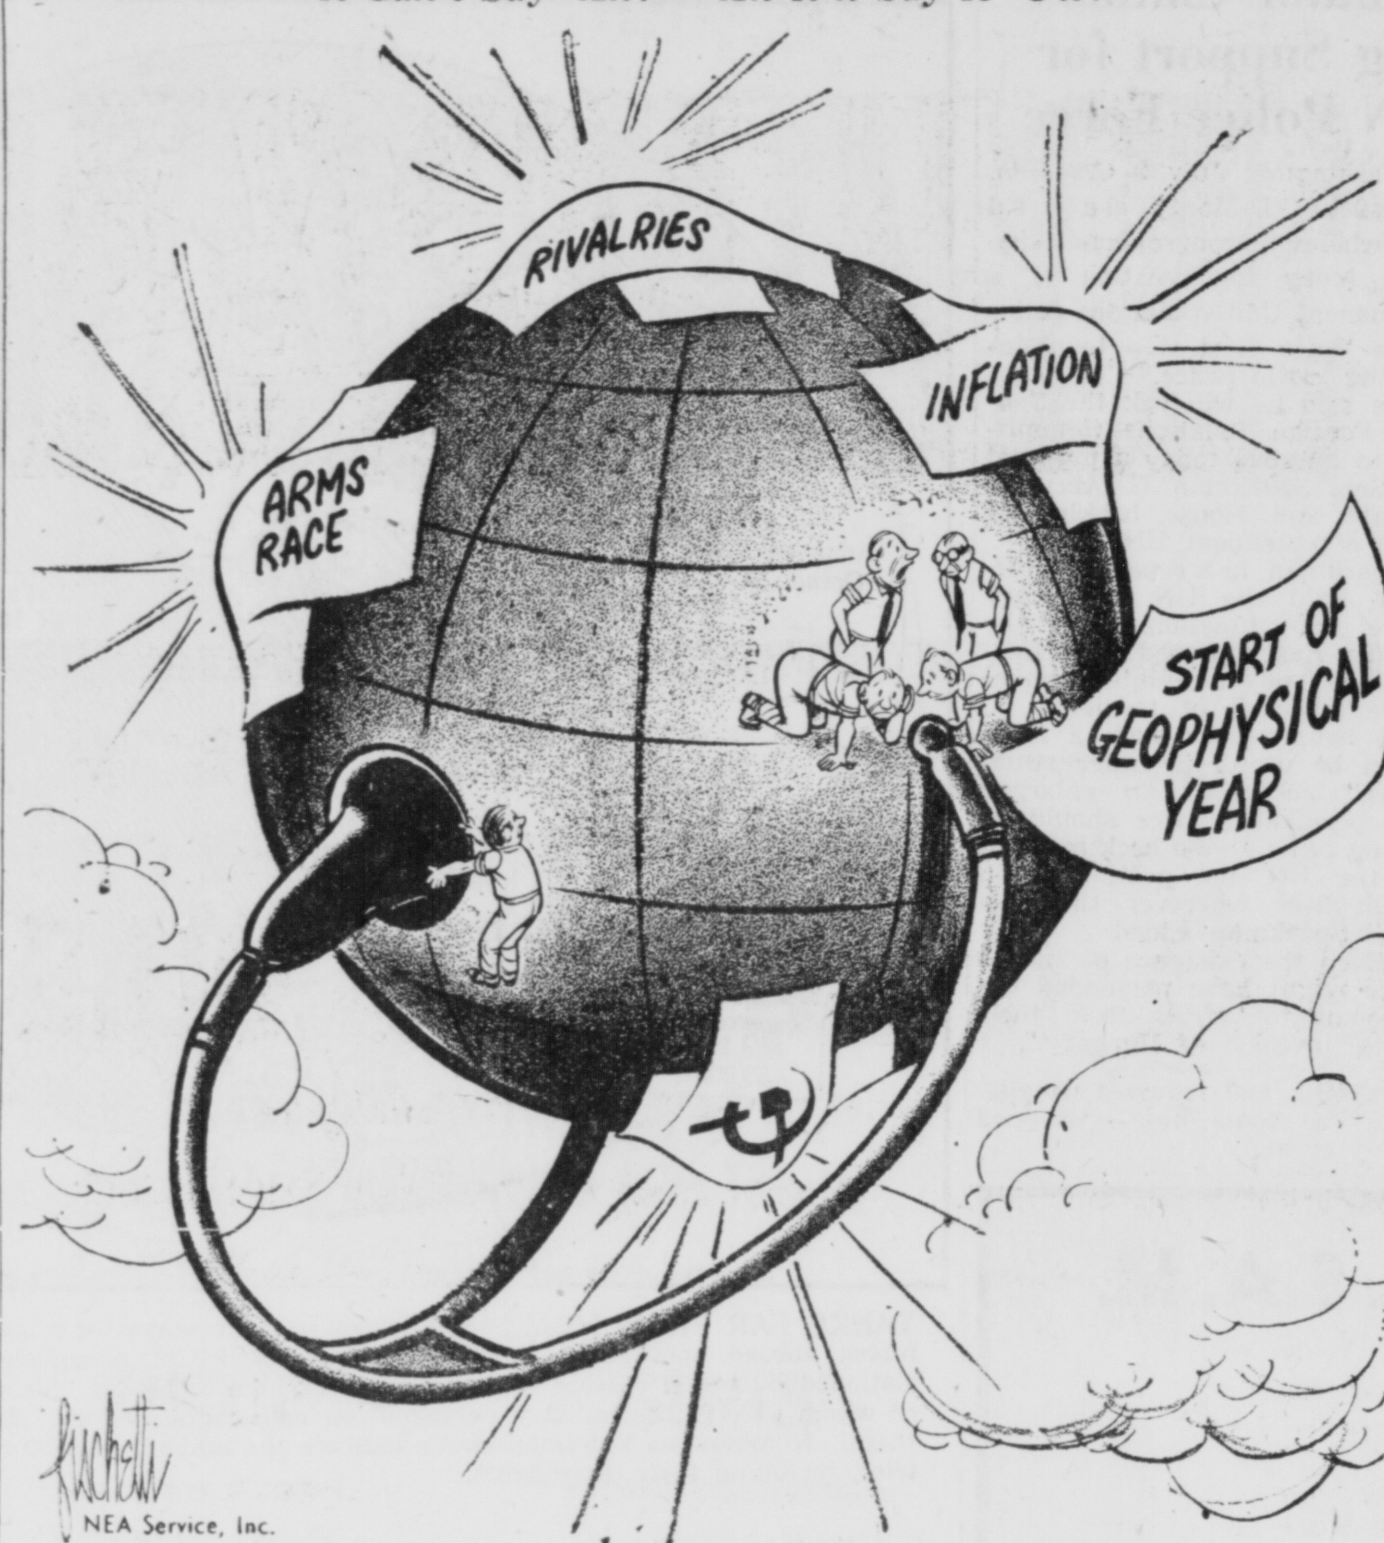

Q—Can a person catch cancer when drinking hot water or eating hot foods? Will drinking water at 120 degrees cause cancer?—J. C.

A—Hot water and hot foods are not recognized as a cause of cancer. Of course too hot substances may injure the delicate tissues of the mouth or throat and indeed may cause burns.

NOTE ON QUESTIONS

Dr. Jordan is unable to answer directly individual questions from readers. However, once a week, in the "Q & A" column he will answer the most interesting and the most frequently asked questions received during the week.

"It Can't Say 'Ah!'—All It'll Say Is 'Ow!'"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — Senator John Fitzgerald Kennedy of Massachusetts—who now admits he would accept a Democratic nomination for the presidency if it were offered to him—has seized on the Algerian struggle for independence from France as his No. 1 cause.

Later on, he said in what he obviously intended to be a major foreign policy speech in the Senate, he will take up the cause of more aid for Poland.

The Algerian revolution has been going on for the better part of 10 years. It is a fight about which most Americans know little and care less. Vaguely, there is some knowledge that the United States maintains an air base in Algiers—or some place in North Africa. But that's about all.

The official American policy under both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations has encouraged this indifference. The line has been that Algiers was a part of France and therefore trouble there was an internal matter for the French to settle.

BUT NOW along comes the junior senator from Massachusetts to demand that the United States change this policy. Sen. Kennedy even introduced a resolution authorizing the President and secretary of state "to achieve a solution which will recognize the independent personality of Algeria and establish a basis for a settlement independent with France."

This marks Sen. Kennedy as a courageous, original thinker on foreign policy. It also throws a tough challenge to President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles.

It is not an endorsement of bipartisan foreign policy. The senator likewise has a few criticisms for other bigwigs in the Republican administration for their stands.

He criticizes Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge for having opposed United Nations' consideration of the Algerian question three times in the past.

He criticizes Douglas Dillon, former U. S. ambassador to France, now undersecretary of state, for having declared, "The United States stands solemnly behind France in her search for a liberal, equitable solution of the problems in Algeria."

AND HE criticizes Vice President Nixon for having "failed even to mention this sensitive area in his report" on his special mission to Africa this year. Nixon was urged in both Tunisia and Libya to help stop the fighting in Algeria.

In May the ambassadors from all the Arab countries represented in Washington called on Secretary Dulles to ask that the United States aid in solving the Algerian crisis and stop supplying arms to France for use in Africa.

This appeal was rejected on the same old grounds. But now Sen. Kennedy has revived the issue in more embarrassing form.

The effects of this Kennedy speech will be far-reaching. It will be hailed and made much of in the Arab world.

JUST AS certainly, it will be condemned in France. Having lost Indo-China, Tunisia and Morocco, France is desperately trying to hold on to Algeria. One of the principal French defenses is that the rights of a million Europeans in Algeria cannot be sacrificed. Eight million Moslems look at it otherwise.

"The essential first step," says Kennedy, "is the independence of Algeria along the lines of Tunisia and Morocco."

"Unfortunately," he adds later, "the Tunisians and Moroccans also know they owe little, if anything, to the United States for their new-found freedom."

Again he says, "No matter how complex the problems posed by the Algerian issue may be the record of the United States in this case is, as elsewhere, a retreat from the principles of independence and anti-colonialism."

There is a lot of old-fashioned American support for the underdog in this doctrine which is not without political appeal. A fair estimate is that this speech hasn't hurt Jack Kennedy's political standing one bit.

Industrial Growth Gives 14,000 New Jobs

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 9 (P)—The state commerce commissioner said today that industrial growth in New York during the first five months of 1957 created more than 14,600 new jobs.

At the same time, said Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson, approximately 3,000 workers lost their jobs because 43 businesses either failed or discontinued.

Dickinson said, in a speech prepared for the dedication of the new Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. high-energy fuels plant, that 106 new industrial operations were started in the January-May period. They provided employment for more than 6,900 persons with a total annual payroll estimated at 26 million dollars, he said.

In addition, Dickinson said, approximately 7,700 new jobs became available through 124 plant expansions, with the additional payroll estimated at 29 million dollars.

Total investment for the new operations and expansions was more than 372 million dollars, he said.

Dickinson said his figures were obtained from surveys made by the Commerce Department and from "many outside sources."

"If we were to err at all in our figures," he said, "it would be on the conservative side."

Retriever

Lakeland, Fla. (P)—Mrs. Agnes Saum has a mixed-up collie named Duchess who is an accomplished cat-napper. "Some time ago," she says, "we let her nurse one of our cat's kitten just as a sort of a joke—we didn't know she would take it seriously." But after this kitten was removed, Duchess went next door and brought it back to feed along with her seven pups. Mrs. Saum returned the kitten and tried to explain matters to Duchess. It didn't take. Next day she went again to the neighbor's and abducted another kitten.

Favoring of Racial Groups Held of No Election Value

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 9—The biggest "phony" in American politics—the idea that, if you favor particular racial or ethnic groups, you win their votes in the next election—is one of the main fallacies behind the so-called "civil rights" controversy in Congress. Actually, every scientific poll taken shows that the Negro vote in the United States follows the pattern of economic influence as it usually affects other groups of comparable income.

Despite the attitude of the Southern Democrats, a heavy majority of the Negroes in the North cling to the Democratic party. Even in the face of the Republican effort to take credit for Chief Justice Warren's leadership in formulating the desegregation decision handed down in 1954 by the Supreme Court, the Negro voters in the 1956 Presidential election gave the bulk of their support to the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket.

Notwithstanding also all the fanfare of Republican speakers who pointed to President Eisenhower's prompt measures in putting "integration" into effect in the schools of the District of Columbia and other acts and speeches on his part between 1952 and 1956 avowedly opposing segregation, the Negro voters gave the Eisenhower ticket in last year's election only 36 per cent of their vote, according to a post-election study and poll made by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan and published last March. It backs up the Gallup news release of Jan. 16 last, which showed the Republicans as having obtained 39 per cent among Negro voters in 1956.

Had 35 Per Cent in '48
While both these studies recorded a marked gain over 1952 for the Republicans, it is significant that, according to the University of Michigan study, the Republicans in 1948 had 35 per cent of the Negro vote, while in 1956 they got 36 per cent—only one more percentage point than eight years before. In fact, the research staff of the Republican National Committee in its summary report of the 1956 election issued in May of this year says:

"In spite of considerable improvement in the Republican vote among Negroes, indications are that more than three-fifths of the Negro voting population continued to vote Democrat in 1956."

Why isn't all the "civil rights" agitation by the Republicans more successful in winning Negro votes? The answer is to be found in looking at the same Michigan study with respect to low-income groups as a whole. It shows that those voters earning below $2,000 a year—both white and Negro—went from 39 per cent Republican in 1948 to 58 per cent in 1952 and then to 60 per cent in 1956.

But in the wards in and around Chicago which are composed predominantly of Negro voters with low incomes, the election statistics show the Republican percentage of the vote to be 23 per cent in 1952 and about 32 per cent in 1956. This was a substantial gain, but still the Democrats got 68 per cent in 1956.

More Normal Division

Looking, however, at the wards with Negroes of higher incomes, the Republican percentage was 40.1 per cent in 1952 and 43.7 per cent in 1956—a more normal division for a labor group. The Gallup poll shows union labor throughout the country as 39 per cent Republican in 1952 and 43 per cent Republican in 1956.

The reason the percentages for the Republicans among the lower-income Negro voters are below the lower-income group in the nation as a whole is because a higher proportion of individuals with lower incomes is to be found among Negroes than among whites. There is still a feeling, moreover, among Negro voters that the New Deal was an economic emancipation for them. The WPA, for instance, and the vast relief appropriations happened to do more for the Negroes than for any other single group.

Back in 1936 this correspondent interviewed in Pittsburgh the late Robert L. Vann, editor of the largest of the Negro newspapers of the country and director of Negro political activities in Pennsylvania for the Democratic party. He told me why he had switched to FDR and I asked him if the Negroes were aiming at "social equality." His reply was:

For Economic Equality

"My goodness, no. We have our own pride of race."

"Then is it economic equality?" I asked.

"That's it, that's it," he replied. "Equal pay for equal work, and equal opportunity in jobs is what we really want."

The political party that improves the economic status of the Negro worker will gain far more than the party that doesn't. The "civil rights" issue is important to the Negro voter, but it will not swing an election for the Republicans in times when there is a recession or depression. That's why, even with the handicap of the Southern opposition to "civil rights," the Negro voters in the North are still betting on the Democratic party as their economic savior. Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, July 9 (P)—Dull days in the metal industries aren't fazing the optimists.

They predict today that steel should see a marked revival before the month is over. The battered copper industry talks of getting supply and demand back on speaking terms before the summer is gone. Only in the zinc and lead industries do the optimists look wistfully to a much later date.

Steel's problems are mostly domestic. Copper's plight is a world wide one with U. S. producers caught in a bind. Lead and zinc men feel their current troubles are due to government action, or lack of it.

Rely on Customers

In all the industries there is growing belief that their customers are about to come to the rescue.

And a return to conspicuous health in the metal industries would boost confidence throughout the economy, replacing the present tendency to just sit tight and see which way the business cat is going to jump.

Steel men report that orders are picking up. They are coming from two important groups of users—the auto and the appliance makers—whose indifference in recent weeks saddened the steel industry.

Steel's plight isn't very severe anyway, and its distribution among the various companies is notably irregular. Some are still producing near capacity while others are far below that. Some have looked for a good summer all along while others—including some of the biggest—have expected total protection of the industry in the summer months to average 80 per cent of capacity or even less.

Those who make large structural shapes, heavy plates, oil pipes mostly have full order books.

Sheet Steel Hit Hardest

Makers of sheet steel have been the worst hit by the recent let down. And they are the ones who today are reporting the most heartening news, the first signs of a pickup in ordering by the auto companies and some of the appliance makers. And both of these use nonferrous metals, too.

Customer resistance to the new higher prices hasn't shown up yet, partly perhaps because many of the users haven't been ordering ahead during the days they are closing up shop for mass vacations. And it may be fall before steel users test out their ability to pass along part or all of the new costs in the form of higher prices on consumer goods.

Different With Copper

Copper's plight is different. Its worst phases are worldwide. It seems to stem from two things: 1. The price was forced up so high (46 cents a pound) that when possible users of copper turned to substitutes; and 2. Production around the world was speeded up.

The result was a growing supply and a shrinking demand. When supply topped demand the price began skidding. But supply kept piling up. With the price here now around 29 cents, efforts are being made to bring world output into line. Some of the British companies are cutting back in Africa. Some of the U. S. companies have trimmed output a bit, mainly by cutting back to a five day week.

Reports from Chile tell of cutting production there by 10 per cent in the American-owned mines. The Chilean law, moreover, says that any cutbacks there must be no larger in proportion than those made at mines the American companies own elsewhere, mostly in the United States.

That would seem to point to further cutbacks here if Chilean output is to be slowed. On whether the British, the Americans and the Chilean government can all get together depends in large measure the immediate outlook in the copper industry. The long range view depends on the users.

By Gum

Dayton, Ohio (P)—A raid on a king-size cookie jar by a gang of 30 hungry boys didn't quite come off. Police said the boys broke into the Sunshine Biscuit Co. and hauled away three large boxes of what they thought were cookies. The boxes, however, contained gummed labels.

Sardine Sandwiches Hit The Spot With Boy Scouts

SCOUTING AROUND for something to eat is no problem for these New York scouts when canned sardines are available.

BY GAYNOR MADDON.

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Beginning July 18, 500 cases of sardines from icy Maine waters will start to disappear down eager Boy Scouts' throats. There are 100 cans in each of those 500 cases and 53,000 lads from all over the country to eat them at the Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

Some bright boy has figured that if all those sardines were swimming in a straight line, the line would be two miles long.

Someone else has figured that it will take 7,448 cows working full time to supply the daily requirement of 74,480 quarts of fresh milk.

A snack meal is served to the boys as they arrive at the camp. With the sardine sandwiches go milk and fruit.

Sardine Sandwich

(2 sandwiches)

One 3 1/4 to 4-ounce can Maine sardines, 4 slices white bread,

2 tablespoons mayonnaise, sliced onions (optional).

Drain Maine sardines. Spread bread with mayonnaise. Place 1/2 can of sardines on 2 slices of bread. Top with onion rings if desired. Make into sandwiches with remaining bread.

Sardine Sandwiches, Open Face

(2 sandwiches)

One 3 1/4 to 4-ounce can Maine sardines, 2 slices wholewheat bread, butter, 2 slices Cheddar cheese, stuffed olives.

Drain sardines. Toast bread on one side. Butter untoasted side. Place 1/2 can of sardines on untoasted side. Top with cheese. Broil until bubbly and brown. Serve hot, garnished with stuffed olives.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Cream cheese sardine dip with crackers, oven-fried chicken, whipped potatoes, garden green beans, enriched bread, butter, or margarine, celery and radishes, watermelon, sugar cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

Lyndonville Pilot Leads Sailplane Dash

Elmira, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—Sailplane pilot Stan Smith of Lyndonville today held first place in the 24th national soaring contest after he won the 79-mile speed dash to Syracuse.

Smith, the only pilot to complete the course, picked up 1,000 points and moved from fifth to first in the standings.

Officials said he alone was able to catch a warm front that provided rising air currents during an otherwise poor day for soaring.

Del Miller of Millersburg, Pa., was second for 526 points. He won the points for flying 42 miles although he did not complete the assignment. Fifteen other pilots tried to reach Syracuse and failed.

The ten-day meets ends Thursday.

The top five in the unofficial standings:

1. Stan Smith, Lyndonville, N. Y., 3,697 points.
2. Lyle Maxey, Downey, Calif., 3,225 points.
3. Fritz Compton, South Miami, Fla., 3,168.

4. Del Miller, Millersburg, Pa., 3,017.

5. Bernie Carris, Big Flats, N. Y., 3,008.

Briefly Told

Albany, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—George A. Brenner of Yonkers was appointed surrogate in Westchester county by Gov. Harriman yesterday.

He succeeded the late Samuel Faile.

Brenner, 53, is a graduate of Fordham Law School and has practiced law in Yonkers and New York city.

Albany, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—Judson Zimmer of Gloversville was elected chairman yesterday of the State Dormitory Authority, the agency in charge of construction and maintenance of housing and dining facilities for state university students.

Zimmer succeeded Robert H. McCarthy of Troy, who was named vice chairman.

Also elected were William C. Warren of Buffalo, secretary; Charles H. Brind, counsel, and Warren C. Schmidt of Albany, treasurer. Brind is counsel for the State Education Department, and Schmidt is an assistant state commissioner of education.

Springfield, Ill., July 9 (AP)—New York's Gov. Averell Harriman heads a civil defense committee which will work between sessions of the annual governor's conference.

Gov. William G. Stratton, chairman of the governor's conference, made the appointment yesterday.

Next year's conference will be held in Miami, Fla. The 1957 conference was at Williamsburg, Va., two weeks ago.

Named to Harriman's committee were Govs. J. Hugo Anderson of Montana, Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota, Marvin Griffin of Georgia, Vernon W. Thomson of Wisconsin and Edwin L. Mechem of New Mexico.

Saranac Lake, N. Y., July 9—The Adirondack Enterprise came out editorially today for James A. Farley as United States Senator from New York.

The Democratic newspaper said the former postmaster general and former Democratic national chairman would "without a doubt make a better senator than many now serving in Washington."

"Mr. Farley," the Enterprise said, "would be among the first to realize that the Democratic party cannot succeed merely with tired old platitudes, with worn-out petty patronage, or with unimaginative leadership at any level."

There are about 80,000 different kinds of pests in the U. S., and 7,000 are injurious to crops.

Bomb Neutralized

Kassel, Germany, July 9 (AP)—A World War 2 bomb discovered in the heart of this west German city was neutralized today after several hundred frightened families had been removed from the area. German authorities said the projectile was a 1,000-pound American bomb with a special type of acid fuse. Munitions expert Adolf Wenig said a special key had to be made to defuse the bomb. Of some 3,000 bombs that he has secured since the end of the war, it was only the third of its type he had seen, Wenig said.

Man, this is the month! *

*This is the month named after Julius Caesar—the noblest Roman — (Rumor has it the Natural Gas furnace and hypocaust dealers of Rome suggested the name because Julius always had his heating system checked this time of year.)

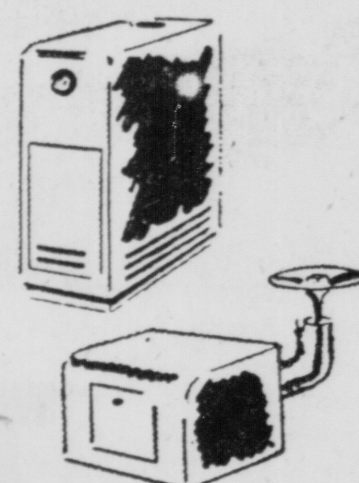

It's high time—July time—to consider revamping that heating plant of yours. Did it give you trouble last year? Were you worried by constant repair bills and inefficient performance?

Well, right now, before the fall heating rush gets underway, is the ideal time to ask your heating dealer about installing a Natural Gas-fired furnace or conversion burner in your home.

P.S. If you are one of the thousands of lucky Natural Gas users already, here's a tip. Leaving the pilot on in your burner will keep your furnace dry and rust-free, plus helping to prevent damp and mildew in the whole cellar. Try it and see!

World News in Brief

Heat Toll 288

Rome, July 9 (AP)—The death toll of one of Europe's worst July heat waves rose today to at least 288, including 52 enfeebled old folks in Italy's crowded homes for the aged.

Showers appeared to have broken the back of the nine-day torrid wave across north Europe. But throughout scorched central Europe and down the sun-blasted Italian peninsula deaths docketed, and there was no relief in sight.

A week of 100-degree temperatures had taken at least 96 lives in Italy.

Gas Bill Approved

Washington, July 9 (AP)—The House Commerce Committee today approved the controversial natural gas bill by a tight 15-13 vote.

The bill by committee chairman Harris (D-Ark.) is designed to free natural gas producers from utility type regulation by the Federal government. It now is slated to go to the House Rules Committee, where further opposition is expected.

Ike Sets Vacation

Washington, July 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower plans to vacation this summer—if and when he can get away—at the U. S. Naval Base in Narragansett Bay near Newport, R. I.

Announcing this today, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty made it clear that whether the President and Mrs. Eisenhower get there depends mainly on when Congress adjourns.

B. & K. in Prague

Prague, Czechoslovakia, July 9 (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Bulganin arrived in Czechoslovakia today to receive new pledges of loyalty in the wake of the sweeping Kremlin shakeup.

As 15,000 cheered, Czechoslovak Communist party chief Antonin Novotny and lesser officials embraced and kissed the beaming Soviet leaders on their arrival by train at the frontier station of Cerna; on the Czechoslovak-Hungarian-Ukrainian border.

Cement Strike Is Curtailing Much Of N.Y. Road Work

Albany, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—The national cement strike has sharply curtailed highway construction in most sections of the state.

The State Public Works Department reported today that work on several major projects had been halted, when cement supplies ran out, and that progress on other jobs would be stopped within the next two weeks if the strike continued.

Tony Gallo, general secretary-treasurer of the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers Union, said yesterday in Chicago there would be no settlement of the strike on terms less favorable to employees than those of a 16-cent package negotiated with one major firm.

Gallo said that the strike now affected "nearly 70 plants and 15,000 people."

To Meet in Catskill

More than 2,000 workers are on strike against cement-producing plants in New York state. A federal mediator will meet with representatives of the union and Alpha Portland cement plant at Catskill a week from today.

The Public Works Department said lack of cement had halted paving work on the Erie and New England sections of the state thruway, on Route 17 and 17C in the southern tier, and on arterial highway projects at Syracuse and Rochester.

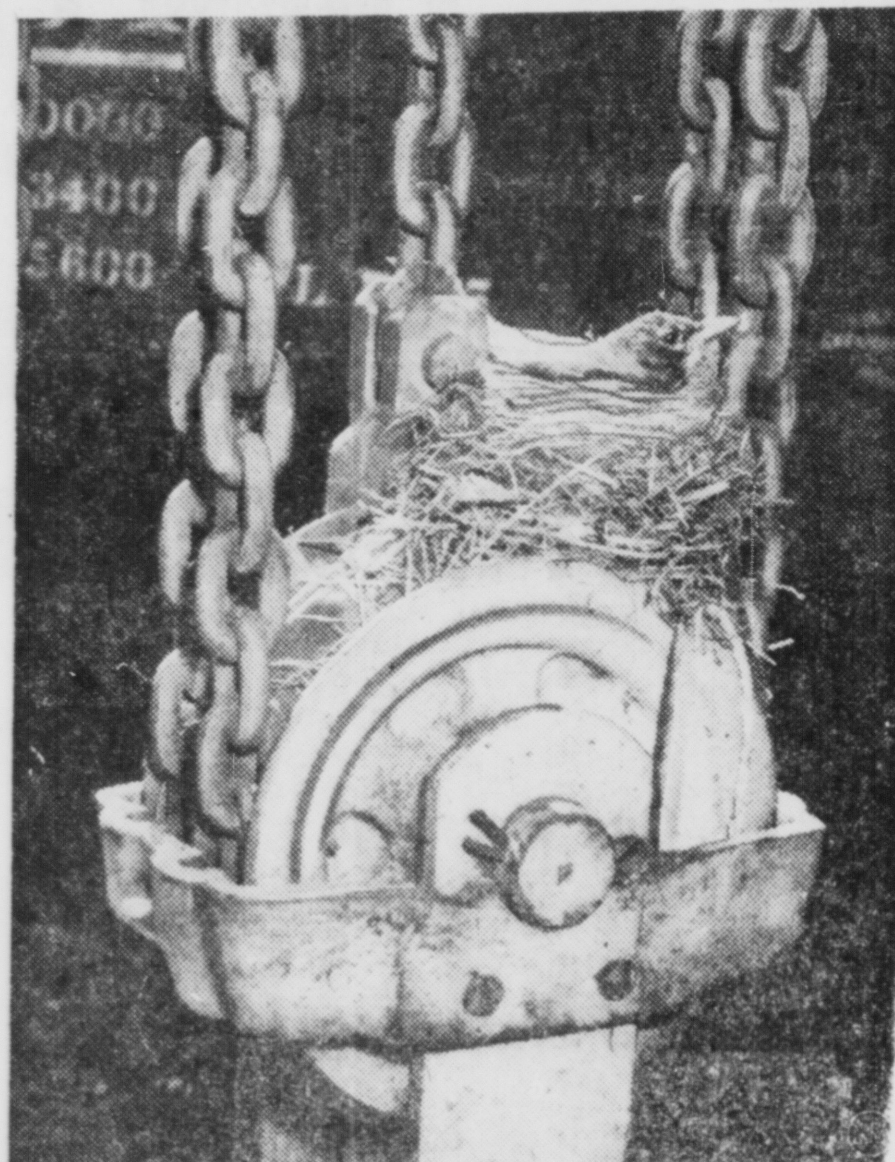

Major paving work on the Long Island Expressway and the Brooklyn-Queens Expressway probably will be halted this week, the department said.

Professor Acquitted

Washington, July 9 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals has reversed the contempt of Congress conviction of Marcus Singer, Cornell University zoology professor who refused to name one-time Communist associates. The Appellate Court, in throwing out Singer's conviction and ordering his acquittal, said its action was based on the Supreme Court's decision June 28 in the Watkins case. The Court of Appeals took the action June 28 but its brief order was not made available until today after attorneys had been notified.

REUNION IN PARIS—Actress Ingrid Bergman and her 19-year-old daughter, Jenny Ann Lindstrom stand together in Paris where they met July 8 for the first time in six years. Plane brought Jenny Ann, a University of Colorado student, from Sweden where she had flown with her father, Dr. Peter Lindstrom. Miss Bergman and Lindstrom were divorced in 1950. Gail Russell Sued

Los Angeles, July 9 (AP)—Gail Russell, 32, has been arraigned on a felony-drunk charge and sued for $75,000 damages as a result of driving her new car through a cafe window July 4. The suit was filed yesterday by a janitor, Robert Reynolds, 21, who alleged he was seriously injured when pinned under her car while cleaning up the closed cafe. Miss Russell's preliminary hearing was set for July 19 on the drunk-driving charge. She was released on $1,000 bail. She told newsmen she was "very sorry it happened."

Nip Red Plot

Tehran, Iran, July 9 (AP)—The head of Iran's security department said today Iranian authorities had nipped a Communist plot to blow up the huge Abadan oil refineries. Gen. Teimour Bakhtiar, who is also deputy premier, told a news conference Iran had arrested a number of Communists "who were almost ready" to put into operation the plan to sabotage the refineries.

Police Chief Dies

Suffern, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—John G. Spissinger, 55, chief of police at nearby Haverstraw for 30 years, died in Good Samaritan Hospital here yesterday after a long illness.

DUSTING OFF AN OLD ONE—An Egyptian worker brushes the sand off one of two small statues that were unearthed during the recent excavations at Dahshut, Egypt. The excavations led to the uncovering of the lost tomb of the 13th dynasty King Amni Aamu. The statues are small compared with the usually massive statuary of ancient Egypt.

Bruhn Will . . . 8 Experts . . .

ment would be taken in the matters before him until after the Appellate Division had ruled. In view of the fact that the matter was before the higher court on appeal, Judge Bruhn said, it would be "presumptuous" on his part to make a decision in the matters before him at this time, although the matters were not exactly the same but were "closely related."

August 13 Set

The matter was consequently adjourned until August 13 at 10 a. m. when he said he expected the higher court probably would have rendered a decision on the constitutionality of the provisions of the ordinance, which is under attack.

Assistant District Attorney Joseph Toracca appeared for the prosecution. There was no appearance on the part of the Town of Ulster or its officials.

Mattie Every, Flatbush avenue trailer camp operator, was first arrested on a charge of failure to secure a license. Later Arthur C. Granquist, Anthony S. Cicoria and Robert D. Mitchell were arrested. Pending before Judge Bruhn is a motion to dismiss the information against Mattie Every and for removal to County Court of the other charges on the grounds Justice Macholdt should be disqualified since he was a member of the town board when the ordinance was approved and should not sit in judgment for violations of an ordinance he approved.

Inmate Breaks Out

Wethersfield, Conn., July 9 (AP)—An inmate of the state's prison escaped today, and first reports said he may have made his getaway on a bus. Anthony Velicka, 35, a trusty, had been sent on an errand outside the gates. He did not return. A bus line runs past the prison to Hartford, a few miles away. Police in Hartford began checking all incoming buses.

Baltimore Route To Be More Scenic, Easier on Cars

Baltimore, July 9 (AP)—Motorists passing through Baltimore late this year are due for a more scenic ride that promises to be easier on the car's brakes and the driver's nerves.

The Baltimore Harbor Tunnel and its 17 miles of virtually stop-free expressway approaches are due to be opened for traffic in December.

The new roads will bypass some of the city's unattractive slums and save considerable time for the motorist. Here are some of the state road commission's estimates for the time necessary to travel through the city by the old and new routes:

A motorist from the northeast bound to Annapolis or points south via U. S. 301 needs about 47 minutes to get through Baltimore now and encounters 43 stop lights en route. The tunnel and expressways are expected to cut the time to 13 minutes, with no stoplights to fray tempers.

A southbound motorist entering the city on U. S. 40 and heading for Washington via the Baltimore-Washington expressway will need only 12 minutes in the future compared to the present 30 minutes on a route dotted by 43 stoplights.

A similar 18-minute saving is expected for motorists approaching U. S. 40 on the northeast and going to Washington via U. S. 1. Fifty stoplights will be eliminated on this route.

The toll charge for the tunnel is not expected to exceed 40 or 50 cents for passenger cars.

156 at YM Day Camp; Contests Slated July 16

The third week of the YMCA Day Camp at DeWitt Lake began Monday with 156 boys and girls registered for the various activities.

Meanwhile, Louis H. Schafer, Y secretary and camp director, said that there were still some openings for the second half of the camp season starting July 22 and continuing for four weeks, ending Aug. 16.

Mr. Schafer also pointed out that final preparations will be made this week for the mid-camp swimming, diving, running and jumping events scheduled for Tuesday, July 16. Ribbons are awarded to winners of each event.

Swimming Progress

Progress in swimming instructions also was reported by the camp director today.

Mr. Schafer said that many of the small fry, boys and girls around six years of age, will "probably swim their first distance swim of 75 feet." This distance is required of a beginner before he or she is considered able to swim.

Boys and girls who were taught to swim in previous Day Camp seasons are now participating in the special swimming skills required in the three swimming tests of the fish, flying fish and the shark. There are 10 skills in these swimming groups, ending with a distance of 100, 200 and 440-yard swim.

Mr. Schafer added that in the four different swimming tests given at the Day Camp there are 40 skills and water stunts for swimmers to master. "It is really two summers and sometimes three before a camper passes all four tests," he said. He also stressed that the tests are only given at the YMCA Camp as they are all under the YMCA National Aquatic program.

Campers this week have two big dates.

On Wednesday, a special party will be held. Many of the Day Camp committee, representing the board of directors, will be present. Then on Thursday, the usual Hot Dog Day program will be observed. Close to 500 frankfurters are roasted every Thursday over the charcoal fires.

More than 300 different boys and girls have registered for the Day Camp this season with some staying for two, three and four weeks. Many stay for the entire summer of eight weeks.

Many of the youngsters are in camp now for their sixth season. Patricia Melville, senior counselor, who started as a camper, is now in her ninth season.

Mrs. Una Lawrence, daughter of Lou Schafer, is completing her 15th season as a camper, counselor and now assistant camp director.

New Campers

New campers this week are: Gary and Karen Boyce, John Salapatis, Robert Vinson, Robert Arthur, Joan and Diane Davis, Barry Present, Joseph Rynday, Vincent Pugliese, Thomas and Linda Hoffay, John McSpirt, Michele and Sharon Lawless, Ronnie Felber, Steven Rosenstein, Richard Edgar, Henry and Roslyn Marcus, James Barnett and Edwin Schatzel.

Faces Murder Charge

Vineland, N. J., July 9 (AP)—Juan Rivera Aponte will be arraigned on a murder charge today in the black magic slaying of a 13-year-old boy. Authorities announced yesterday the 47-year-old poultry farm worker had signed a statement confessing that he killed Roger Carletto last Oct. 13 to get the lad's skull for use in a love potion. Roger lived near the chicken farm of Idek Rosenblum where Aponte worked and the boy had been the object of a wide search for nine months. Aponte himself led police last Tuesday to a shallow grave on the farm where the skeleton of the boy was uncovered.

Named Crown Prince

Rabat, Morocco, July 9 (AP)—Morocco's Sultan Mohammed V today proclaimed his oldest son, Prince Moulay Hassan, crown prince. This is the first time in Moroccan history a successor to the throne has been designated by his own father. Normally the sultan is picked by Morocco's Moslem religious elders. The sultan's action in formally naming his son crown prince was regarded as a move to stabilize the internal political situation in this country, which won independence from France just a little over a year ago.

Baby Dies in Trough

East Bloomfield, N. Y., July 8 (AP)—Dean A. Years, 22-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Years, was drowned yesterday in six inches of water after he toppled into a cement trough and apparently struck his head. Ontario County Coroner Charles Bowbeck issued a certificate of accidental death by drowning.

At Metropolitan Life Conference

Nineteen members of the staff of the Kingston office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company are in Bedford, Pa. today for a business conference with officials of the company at the Bedford Springs, Hotel.

Those attending the meeting are: John E. Jordan, John J. Urban, Sam J. Turck, Francis A. Dolan, Melvin E. Lafferty, Ben E. Sherman, Edwin C. Lacey, Henry B. Drozdowski, Peter J. Kowalenko, Herbert L. Wells, Frank L. Misasi, Thomas M. Davitt, Paul F. Hyatt, Vincent R. Guido, Gerard S. DeVeau and Francis X. Clark of Kingston, and Anthony DeVecchio, Athens; Owen S. Mudge, Coymans and Robert T. Messinger, Saugerties.

These men had exceptional sales and service records last year and are among the top ranking members of the Metropolitan's staff of almost 25,000 field representatives in the United States and Canada.

The local office, which is under the supervision of Manager John E. Jordan, has a staff of four assistant managers, 28 agents and seven clerks.

Army Orders 42 More Helicopters From Bell

Washington, July 9 (AP)—The army said today it has ordered 42 more H13H helicopters from Bell Helicopter Corp., Fort Worth, Tex.

The value of the order was not announced but the new contract brought to more than 200 the number of H13H helicopters ordered by the army in the past two years for training and liaison duties.

The commercial version of the three-place helicopter is the 47G, which the White House has ordered for President Eisenhower's personal use.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

It was in July of 1914 that Captain A. E. Anderson of the Mary Powell died.

Those who wish to have the entire history of the Mary Powell with pictures may I refer you to: "The American Neptune" a quarterly journal of Maritime History at $1.75 a copy or $6.50 a year. I have before me the 1954 July issue and 1954 October issue in which are the Mary Powell articles, written and illustrations loaned by Donald C. Ringwald of Kingston, well-known historian of Hudson river steamboat days. This column has quoted from his July issue some time ago.

I try to obtain any magazine in which Mr. Ringwald's articles appear for he goes into great detail and writes with a sincere interest of the Hudson River. The following is from page 289 on the death of Captain A. E. Anderson who in 1914 "was making his residence that summer at Greenkill Park Inn outside of Kingston. On Sunday, July 12, to all appearances he was in excellent health and in the evening joined heartily in the hymns at a song service. The following morning, singularly enough at the hour of 5:30, the sailing time of Mary Powell for so many years, he was stricken with apoplexy and died at 9:40 a. m. His funeral was held on the afternoon of July 15 and at 3 p. m. while it was in progress, memorial services were held on both Mary Powell and Albany boats.

The Mary Powell at that time was off Fort Washington Point, returning to Rondout with the Palisades Park excursion of the Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Her engines were stopped and, as her bell tolled mournfully in the summer air, the passengers and crew assembled in the saloon. After the church choir had rendered "Nearer My God to Thee," the pastor, Howard E. Snyder, offered a short prayer and spoke briefly of Captain Anderson. Included in these remarks was a reference to the generally prevailing feeling that with his passing would come the passing of Mary Powell.

Those who remember Captain A. E. Anderson may have seen the following tribute printed in the newspapers: "We hold in pride and regard his wonderful record for ability and straight-forward manliness. We have affectionate memory for his consistent life and his kindly, courteous acts. The burden of responsibility for human life in his care he conscientiously assumed and carefully executed.

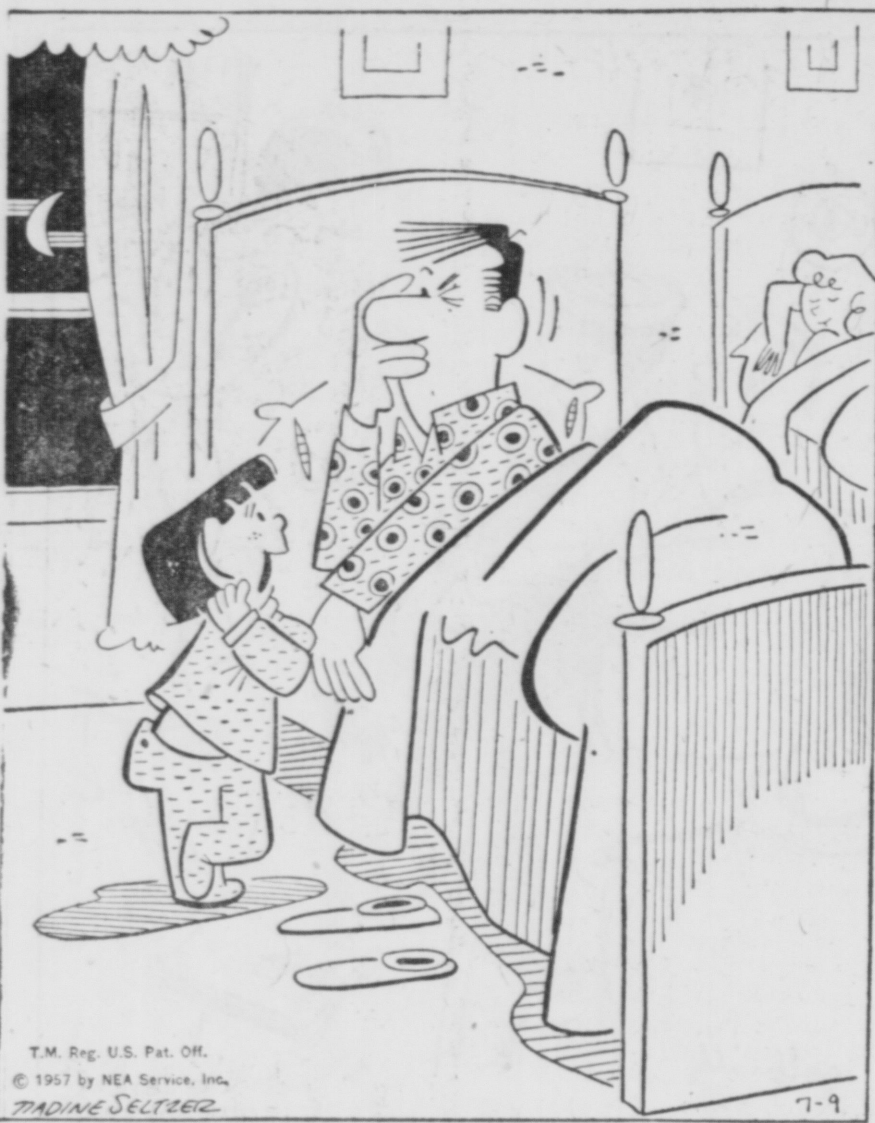

Captain Anderson was to the manner born and the responsibilities and stewardship of the properties and position which came by inheritance to him, he administered with the true spirit of noble manhood. He was positive, without obstinacy; just without harshness; and commanding with quiet dignity."

"In 1916," Mr. Ringwald writes: "Arthur A. Warrington, Mary Powell's pilot, was officially appointed captain and he and his steamboat received the usual hearty salutes on the first trip of the year, a pre-season excursion to New York on May 25th."

Because of the work of the Hoover Commission, the federal government can no longer make loans to such enterprises as: (a) a pet hospital; (b) a beauty parlor; (c) an interior decorator, and (e) a snake farm.

CENTRAL HUDSON

Selling the Bard

Benson, Ariz. (AP)—Fred Bicchetti, an English teacher at Benson High School, took his cue from the advertising world to induce his pupils to attend a Shakespearean play in Tucson. He wrote on his blackboard: "The ghost of your murdered father demands that you kill his murderer. Your girl friend becomes insane and drowns herself because you have killed her father by mistake. You have a chance to kill the murderer as he kneels in prayer. What decision would you make?"

See how Hamlet meets these problems on Friday. Forty pupils succumbed to the soap opera pitch and journeyed some 50 miles to Tucson to see the Shakespearean classic.

Last Straw

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—Principal C. Russell Heinzie of Horace Mann School said Judy Hottenstein's pink hair, along with a pink dress, went beyond the teen-age fads he was conditioned to accept. He sent Judy, 17, home until her hair was restored to normal blonde.

When a wife is trying to reduce she hopes her hubby will stick with her through thick and thin.

An Ohio woman lost a 10-dollar bill when she dropped it through a sewer grating. There went about five bucks' worth of groceries.

Why We Say--

"UNLUCKY 13"

TWELVE APOSTLES: Many people have tried to trace the origin of the "unlucky 13." The most plausible derivation of the expression is in the twelve apostles and Christ at the Last Supper... totaling 13.

THIS 'N' THAT

In days of old when knights were bold they used to fight with sword and mace. They'd slug away in fierce affray till someone fell upon his face. The Cloth of Gold (so we are told) was quite a tournament to see. Knights took a chance with sharpened lance, while lovely ladies shouted "Whe-e-e!" In all their wars (and they had scores) the casualties were mighty small. Compared with... say, a war today, they didn't even count at all. If folks must fight for what seems right they ought to do it with their fists. A knockout spree would surely be better than "dead and wounded" lists. And statesmen all (both great and small) of countries that cannot agree, could fight it out in one grand bout, with just plain folks as referee. Now this must seem a crazy dream, when all the world with hate abounds. But it might save a common grave—to slug it out in 15 rounds.—Karl Flaster.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

HOW TO BEAT INFLATION

Ever hear of the Scot who dropped a silver dollar through a crack in the board walk and then tore up the walk?

Asked why, the canny clansman from Kirkcudbright on the River Dee, said he had accidentally dropped a nickel through the crack. As it wasn't worth his trouble to tear up the walk for a nickel, he dropped the dollar down so it would be worth his trouble!

MR. HUTTON

He reminded me of Jock MacGregor, who said more than he intended, one moonlit night, and found himself engaged. His lassie ate too much and soon got so fat on expensive victuals that Jock wanted to call the thing off. But by then, she couldn't get his ring off her finger, so he had to marry her to save the ring!

Well, the Institute of Life Insurance has a new angle on such goings-on. It says: "Save an extra nickel from every dollar" and stop losing money by inflation.

The life insurance companies employ some smart cookies. A rough definition of inflation is too many dollars chasing too few goods. This makes prices rise and dollars shrink.

Stop borrowing to buy goods; save the extra nickels; drop them in a bank and they will soon be producing more goods. Prices will then level off and dollars stop going through the inflation cracks.

As Scotchmen are the greatest price fighters in the world, give this a try, neighbor.

Tractor Pins Boy, 13,
Against Electric Fence

Cooperstown, N. Y., July 9 (AP)

Thirteen-year-old John Van Cleef was recovering today after an uncomfortable half-hour pinned between an overturned tractor and an electrified fence.

He was not seriously injured. Neighbors saw the farm tractor racing down a hill yesterday on the Van Cleef farm and summoned Westport firemen.

They found the boy pinned by the machine against the fence, which was sending light shocks through his body.

Firemen shut off the current and jacked up the tractor to free him. They said the tractor cutter bar had dug into the ground and kept the weight of the machine off the boy.

John said the tractor had slipped out of gear.

Less than two weeks ago, John's brother, Dierk, was hit by lightning. He also escaped serious injury.

Many Favor Strike
For Higher Milk Price

North Blenheim, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—The Farmers Union says

2,000 replies to a poll of its members show 70 per cent in favor of an immediate strike for a higher producer-price for milk.

Harold Ormsby, head of the union's Otsego county unit, told a meeting here last night that 15 per cent favored a strike in the fall and 15 per cent opposed strike action.

A spokesman said the 25 Schoharie county farmers who attended the meeting approved unanimously when asked if they would strike.

The union, which claims 6,000 members, seeks a blend price of $7 a hundredweight (46.5 quarts). The administration of the New York milk marketing area has estimated that farmers will receive a uniform price of $4.08 a hundredweight for milk delivered this month.

The Farmers Union is a successor to the Dairy Farmers Union, which staged strikes in the New York milkshed in 1937 and 1939.

The federal budget, as proposed today, has increased 1,000 per cent over the past 20 years, according to the Upstate New York Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report.

John said the tractor had slipped out of gear.

Less than two weeks ago, John's brother, Dierk, was hit by lightning. He also escaped serious injury.

Highway Bosses Told
Not to Be Bureaucrats

Ithaca, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—A professor advised highway superintendents today against performing "like high-handed bureaucrats."

Prof. Hugh Wilson, a soil conservationist for the State College of Agriculture's agronomy department, told 250 highway superintendents they should do a better job of selling their road program, inform property owners of their plans, stay clear of local politics and not damage property unnecessarily.

The highway executives met at Cornell for a 2½-day school arranged by the State College of Agriculture and the State College of Engineering to discuss problems in local road building.

To manufacture a perfect lens for eyeglasses requires about 363 different operations and skills.

PONTIAC... SMALLER
CARS AREN'T EVEN IN THE RUNNING!

If it's proof you want, your Pontiac dealer is loaded with it—point-by-point engineering comparisons and on-the-record facts and figures. No smaller car is designed or powered to come close to Pontiac's eye-opening performance... alert, reflex-action response... and its smooth, effortless mastery of every driving demand. Try a demonstration drive—over your own route—in traffic or out on the highway. Put the facts on America's Number One Road Car to a test and you'll leave the little league for good!

WITH 4 TO 7 EXTRA
INCHES OF WHEELBASE,
PONTIAC OUTCLASSES
THE SMALLER CARS IN
RIDE AND ROADABILITY!

Pontiac's length is built in—not hung on! Smaller cars extend bumpers and fenders to look big, but Pontiac doesn't need camouflage... it is big! Its man-sized 122-inch wheelbase strides over the bumps instead of riding on them. This extra length, plus a carload of new suspension ideas, results in Pontiac's exclusive Level-Line Ride that no car at any price can surpass! Sample a few miles—and you'll never re-enlist in the small-car army again!

YOUR MONEY ACTUALLY
BUYS UP TO 8.9% MORE
SOLID CAR PER DOLLAR
IN A PONTIAC!

The so-called "low-price" cars fall far short of Pontiac in actual, measurable car—and your Pontiac dealer has official specification comparisons to prove it! No smaller car comes even close to Pontiac's rock-solid construction... from its rugged X-member frame through every inch of its heavy-duty running gear Pontiac is muscle all the way! This extra heft means Pontiac holds the road like no smaller car you've ever driven... gives you a ride remarkably free of bounce, shake and noise! Put all the facts and figures to your own personal road test. Call your own shots and see how Pontiac's Precision-Touch Controls give you steering, braking and parking ease out of reach of the small jobs!

PONTIAC HAS ALWAYS COMMANDED A HIGH
TRADE-IN DOLLAR!

When you put your money in a Pontiac you know your investment will be riding high for a long time to come! In fact, over the years, no car has a better reputation for being a top-demand used car. So before you sign on the dotted line for a smaller job at Pontiac's price—get the dollar-stretching good news your Pontiac dealer has waiting for you. Here in the easiest move of your life are the car and the value that will get you out of the small-car class for keeps!

Good Lead Is Better Defense

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written by NEA Service

Today's hand was played at the Regency Club in New York. Walter Malowan who sat South was rather disappointed that he failed to make his five-diamond contract and sent me the hand as an example of fine defense.

West opened the eight of spades. East won with the queen. Malowan dropped the seven. East cashed the ace and Malowan dropped the ten. Nevertheless East kept right on with a third spade and his partner ruffed to set the hand.

It was good defense since Malowan had carefully concealed the deuce of spades. However, East had no real problem. He and his partner always opened low from a three-card suit. Hence he knew West started with only two spades and the third lead was a cinch.

The bidding of the hand is most interesting. East had a poor but honest take-out double. Malowan's three-diamond bid was both strength and a pre-empt. It shut out West temporarily.

North's three no-trump bid was reasonable and he would have wrapped up his contract against the probable spade lead.

West's four-heart bid was intended as a sacrifice and North had a good double. Nevertheless, there is no defense against four hearts the way the cards lie.

Malowan's five-diamond bid was a dual purpose. He had some slight fear that four hearts would make and considerable hope that he could bring home five diamonds.

If East had tried to cash just one heart trick Walter would have succeeded in that fell purpose. As it was he scored a small profit from his hundred honors.

Asks Dumping Be Stopped

343 First Ave.
Kingston, N. Y.
July 5, 1957

Editor, The Freeman:

This morning our quiet little residential street is rumbling with the sound of trucks. We feel as though we are being invaded by an enemy; because these trucks are not freight or delivery trucks, but trucks loaded with the refuse from the entire city of Kingston to be dumped not more than half a mile from our door!

Although we had heard that this was being proposed in the city council, we simply could not believe it was true. This method of disposing of refuse by creating a disease and vermin infested dump, is antiquated, not to mention the injustice to the area selected for the project.

Residents of the 4th Ward have petitioned the city officials not to carry out this plan of area destruction. The petition has apparently been ignored.

The value of all property in the area will certainly be affected adversely, and a terrible health hazard will be created as well.

I am a recent comer to the city of Kingston, and I must say, have been very disappointed with the services and facilities for which Kingston's citizens pay such unusually high rates. The inequalities of facilities (schools, streets, dump locations, etc.) might lead one to believe that the city government is not at all run for the good of the total population.

Incineration is recommended as the modern method of disposing of refuse, and I recommend that the dumping be stopped on First Avenue until the area residents are given a hearing, which they should have in any supposedly democratic community!

Why is incineration better? Because what little land is reclaimed by the "land-fill" method is completely off-set by the filthy mess created by this out-dated plan. Many locations in other areas of town could use some filling in, but I notice they have refused the privilege—as we also do!

I would like to appeal to the local city government to examine their methods of selecting ways of disposing of city problems. Are their methods democratic or dictatorial? Should tax-paying citizens not be allowed the privilege of hearings, discussions, etc. before such a plan be instituted. A few short months ago, we read in the paper that our alderman from the Fourth Ward had been assured that no such plan was being considered. So, we the citizens went to sleep, and now the trucks are rumbling past our door with their rotten cargo!

I would be interested to hear the opinions of citizens in other areas of the city. Do they really consider this move wise? Whether or not one lives in the Fourth Ward, Kingston is still our town; is it headed for decay or progress?

GOOD EVENING—LOVELY WEATHER, NEST-CE PAS? AM I ON TIME? IS THE CHAMPAGNE CHILLED? SHALL WE DANCE?

ress? I, for one, can not believe that in a city like Kingston, with so many fine people, beautiful churches, good civic organizations, service clubs, etc.—and such a large percentage of the people taking part in these activities—that the people really approve of the old fashioned "city dump."

Should we no make our aldermen representative of us by expressing ourselves? I ask again, will it be progress for Kingston—or DECAY?

Judge Confirms Sale of All But One O&W Segment

New York, July 9 (AP)—Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan has confirmed sale of all but one segment of the defunct New York Ontario and Western Railway for $10,067,820.

The railroad's properties, including 37 diesel locomotives, were sold to the highest bidders last June 25-27. Yesterday the receivers appeared in court for judicial confirmation of the sales.

The road was parcelled off in 22 segments. Ryan approved sale of all but one—a nine-acre piece of property in West New York, N. J.

A total of $50,000 was bid for the West New York property. But Ryan rejected the offer after counsel for the receivers said a private appraiser valued the property at $260,000.

Ryan granted the receivers' motion to put the property up for private sale. He set next Monday for further possible bids or reports on it.

The two largest bidders for the railroad properties were Stanley G. Falk, a Buffalo, N. Y., attorney, and Sidney G. Rose of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Falk's offer totaled $4,140,000 for certain sections. Rose bid $2,926,000 on other segments.

Population of Latin America's nations is now about equal to that of the United States and Canada.

Lutheran Church Notes

Woodstock, July 9—Sunday morning, June 30, certificates of promotion were given to all members of the Sunday school of Woodstock Christ Lutheran Church, and on Sunday, July 7 all members of the Sunday school reported to their new classes.

Frederick Phillip De Ruvo Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick P. De Ruvo Sr., of Boiceville, was baptized at the morning service.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holmzer were in charge of devotions at the picnic meeting of the Fellowship Family held on the church grounds Sunday evening.

It has been reported that Mrs. G. Oliver Sands, wife of the pastor, is improving from her recent illness and is recuperating at the home of her son, David F. Enders in Central Bridge, N. Y.

Among the out-of-town visitors at the parsonage during the past week were the Misses Laura Enders and Edna Moran of Albany. Mr. and Mrs. John N. Carver and daughter, Debra, of Hamden, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. David F. Enders, son Peter and daughter Elaine of Central Bridge; Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Armstrong, his father, daughter Joan, son Walter and Miss Linda Klefback, all of Albany.

The July meeting of the United Lutheran Church Women will be held at the church on the 11th.

On Sunday, July 7, the Rev. Mr. Sands took his sermon topic from Mt. 25:10, and his theme was "The Closed Door."

Films Tonight

Woodstock, July 9—Ben Meyers will present a program of films, including conversations with Sean O'Casey, Marcel Du-champ and Carl Sandburg, tonight at 9 o'clock at Parnassus Square.

Fair and Supper

Woodstock, July 9—The annual fair and roast beef dinner of the WSCS will be held at the Wittenberg Methodist Church Hall, Wednesday, July 17. The fair will start at 2 p. m., and the first serving of the supper will be at 5 p. m.

Cannot Pay Alone

Chautauqua, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Seaton says "the federal government alone cannot, should not and will not pay for the nearly 100 billion dollars needed for electric power generating facilities within the next 20 years. 'Teamwork is the answer,' he said. To keep on top of the rising demand for electric power, he said, every possible type of cooperation must be enlisted. Seaton spoke last night at a meeting of the 84th annual assembly of the Chautauqua institution. About 2,000 persons attended.

Held in Bank Robbery

Independence, Kan., July 9 (AP)—A gunman robbed the Farmers State Bank at Yoder, Kan., of $3,950 yesterday, and a 38-year-old Wichita father was arrested here last night in connection with the holdup. Percy Wyly, agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Wichita office, said FBI agents and state highway patrolmen arrested Alfred Wesley Ratzloff, 38, on a bus bound for Joplin, Mo. Wyly said a federal bank robbery charge would be filed against Ratzloff, father of three. The FBI agent said officers found $500 on Ratzloff and another $3,000 in the man's Wichita home. Wyly said Ratzloff, who was unarmed, did not resist arrest.

Bus Strike

New York, July 9 (AP)—Carey Transportation Inc. bus service between Manhattan airline terminals and the three major metropolitan area airports was halted today by a wildcat strike of drivers. Some drivers said they had quit work last night because they were "sick" from the heat. Others said the men were dissatisfied with their union, C. W. Jones Lodge 835 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. One of the reasons given for the strike was that the union had forced the suspension of three drivers for nonpayment of dues while the men were on vacation. A management spokesman said the company, operating under a closed shop, had to follow the union's orders to suspend the three drivers.

Denmark has a single-chamber parliament.

Student, Former Member to Occupy Lutheran Pulpit

A student at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, Raymond Long and a former member of the congregation who entered the Lutheran ministry, the Rev. Hugh C. Whitaker, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church in Oswego, will occupy the pulpit of the Lutheran Church of the Atonement in Saugerties, while the Rev. Richard I. Crossland, pastor of the congregation is on vacation.

Mr. Long, who will conduct the services July 14 and 21, is a native of Staten Island, and attended the University of Notre Dame and Gettysburg College. In November, he will leave for Europe where he will continue his studies at the University of Hamburg in Germany.

Pastor Whitaker, a native of Saugerties who grew up in Atonement Church, is a graduate of the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia and has served the congregation in Oswego since his ordination two years ago. He will occupy the pulpit on July 28 and August 4.

The regular schedule of services will be held throughout the summer, with Matins at 8 a. m. and the service at 11 a. m. Sunday church school is held at 9:30 a. m. with a nursery for the care of the younger children provided during the 11 a. m. service.

Mr. Long and Pastor Whitaker will also conduct the services at Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church in Ruby, which are held at 9:15 a. m.

TWA to Reconsider Negro's Job Bid

New York, July 9 (AP)—Trans World Airlines has agreed to reconsider a young Negro woman's application for a flight hostess job.

As a result, a hearing on a discrimination complaint against TWA was postponed from today until Sept. 17.

Charles Abrams, chairman of the New York State Commission Against Discrimination, announced the action yesterday. He said that after extended conferences with him, TWA agreed to reconsider the job application of Miss Dorothy Franklin, 22-year-old clerk of Astoria, Queens.

Miss Franklin complained to the commission that TWA rejected her because she was a Negro. The airline said she was turned down on grounds that she had "poor complexion," "unattractive teeth" and legs that were "not shapely."

Abrams said TWA also asked for time to process "additional applications for the position of flight hostess from Negro applicants." He said the company stated that "if such applicants met the qualifications for such jobs it would hire them."

Liner Still on Reef

Hamilton, Bermuda, July 9 (AP)—Scotch on the rocks was the drink of the day for 556 passengers aboard the British cruise ship Reina Del Pacifico still stuck on a coral reef off Bermuda. The passengers and some 300 crew members rode out rain squalls and high seas during the night, awaiting new efforts to pull the 17,872-ton vessel from the reef on which she has been stuck since dawn yesterday. The liner was kept brightly lit during the night. Two red lights on her foremast flashed warnings to passing ships "I am not in control" and "I am a menace to navigation."

Trinity Lutheran Sunday School Picnic Slated Wednesday

Trinity Lutheran Sunday school will start its annual picnic Wednesday, July 10 at Forsyth Park at 12 noon with a lunch served and given to all Sunday school children. In the afternoon, children will compete in games and winners will be given prizes.

Dinners, cafeteria style, from a picnic menu, will be served all during the afternoon until 6:30, to the public.

There will be music for dancing under the pavilion, in the evening.

Children are reminded to bring their gloves, rackets and other equipment for soft-ball, tennis and other games.

In case of a steady rain Wednesday, the picnic will be postponed until Thursday.

There will be a short meeting of all picnic workers tonight at 8 o'clock in the Sunday school rooms, to make final arrangements for the picnic.

Vienna Family Visits Relatives Here; First Reunion in More Than 27 Years

A retired telephone executive from Vienna, Austria, was reunited with his two sisters and a brother here in America, after a separation of more than 27 years.

He is Franz Reichel who is here with his wife and daughter for a three-month visit.

Mr. Reichel is staying with his family at the home of his sister, Mrs. Thure Olsson of 263 Main street.

At the reunion held recently were Charles Reichel, a brother, Karl and Franz Olsson, Josephine Reichel, Mrs. Finni Friedlein, a sister who resides in Cottekill and Anna Maria Friedlein.

Mr. Reichel arrived in America aboard the SS America June 18. He and his family plan to return to Vienna Sept. 6.

While here, Mr. Reichel hopes to see how the telephone and telegraph system is operated in the United States. He was with the Vienna Telegraph Company for more than 44 years. He held an executive position.

The trip was made possible through the efforts of Mrs. Thure Olsson, Mr. Olsson is a local contractor.

Florence Kessler United in Marriage To Sanford L. Leach of Schenectady

Miss Florence Kessler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kessler, 169 Washington avenue and Sanford Leonard Leach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Leach, 1242 Ruffler Road, Schenectady, were married Sunday afternoon, June 30, at 2 o'clock at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The double ring ceremony was performed by Cantor Julian Lohre of Temple Emanuel.

During the wedding, the selections included Because and I Love You Truly.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore peau de soie panels over organdy. The head piece was a crown embroidered in seed pearls, secured with an imported Italian lace veil. She carried a Bible covered with a white orchid and showered with streamers of swansonia.

Carol Rose, a cousin of the bride of Hudson, N. Y., was maid of honor. She was gowned in a blue tiered peau de soie dress. Her flowers were a cascade of roses showered with streamers of swansonia.

Martin Leach of Schenectady, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The ushers were Elvin Rose of Hudson, cousin of the bride, Irwin Harris of Kingston, cousin of the bride, Fred Neufeld of Schenectady, Stuart Grossman of Albany, cousin of the bride, Morris Abramson of Schenectady and Jerome Levinson of Kingston.

A reception was held for 150 guests at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The wedding trip was to Miami Beach, Florida.

The bride's traveling ensemble was of pink linen with pink accessories.

The couple's future home will be at 1283 Van Antwerp Road, Schenectady.

The bride graduated from Kingston High School and attended New Paltz State Teachers College. She was employed in the office of the New York Telephone Company.

The bridegroom graduated from Nott Terrace High School and from Albany College of Pharmacy. He now is serving as Hospital Man, 3rd class, U. S. Navy. He will be associated in business with his father. He is a member of Rho Phi Phi Pharmaceutical Fraternity.

Included in the program of favorite marches will be a selection of Victor Herbert songs. Peter Ferraro will be featured as trumpet soloist.

Richard Bunting will sing "The Lord's Prayer," by Malotte. A rumba, trombone novelty and selections written by Irving Berlin, Ernest Weber, Cole Porter and George Gershwin will also be played.

WHEN GUEST BUYS RAFFLE TICKETS

Dear Mrs. Post: An organization to which I belong gave a luncheon the other day at one of the hotels. The purpose of the luncheon was to raise money for a particular charity. I bought two tickets and invited my sister-in-law as my guest. During the course of the afternoon, the committee members came around to all the tables selling raffle tickets. My sister-in-law bought several tickets and paid for them herself. I would like to know if I was wrong to let her pay for these tickets. As she was my guest, should I have offered to pay for them?

Answer: No, there was no reason why you should have paid for the tickets she chose to buy. After all if one of her tickets had won a prize it would have been hers to keep.

At a Company Dance
Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I attend company dances at various times throughout the year. We usually sit with several other couples whom we know quite well at one big table. I understand that at the dance, there will be several single girls from my husband's office seated at our table. I would like to know what my husband's obligations are toward them. Is it up to him to ask them to dance? Also, if they order anything to drink, should he pay for it? I would very much appreciate hearing from you on this matter.

Answer: If your husband has invited them to sit at his table he will be responsible for them and should pay for their drinks and try to dance once with each of them. If, on the other hand, they are assigned to his table by the company he would not have to do either.

Making Some Return for Hospitality
Dear Mrs. Post: I'm going to spend my vacation (a week of it) in a little town in which my fiancé works. I'm staying at the house of some of his new friends, a young married couple with a small child who are strangers to me. I know from him they haven't much money and I wondered how I could pay my way. I don't want to hurt their feelings. She wrote me a note inviting me.

Answer: One way would be for you and your fiancé to take them out for meals while you are there. The note of invitation from her certainly puts your stay with them on a personal basis and it would be unthinkable to consider it as anything else. You might buy the child a toy—especially if you find out something he wants.

Invitations to a large wedding, a simple wedding or a country wedding, and the reception are included in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-10, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Saugerties Sets Blood Drawing on Thursday Night

The Community Blood Bank will hold a blood drawing Thursday night, July 11, at the VFW Hall on Livingston street, Saugerties. The drawing will be held starting at 7 p. m. It is necessary that at least 50 donors be signed up for this drawing to make it a success. Since January 1957 70 pints of blood have been contributed to the residents of the community without any charge. That is the purpose of this blood bank to have on hand blood for any one who needs it. Only through the cooperation of those who can give blood can this service continue. A goal of 200 pints of blood was set for 1957. At present the bank is falling short of this amount, but if the people of the town of Saugerties will come out to the next drawing and help by giving their blood to this worthwhile service, the program can continue to help those who need it.

Donors must be adults in good health, between the ages of 21 and 55. Unmarried minors between the ages of 18 and 20 must have the written permission of their parent or guardian.

Anyone wishing to attend this drawing may do so by calling Miss McCutcheon at Saugerties for an appointment.

Two pounds of apples usually make five to six cups of the diced fruit.

Stokowski Conducts At Music Fete July 18

LEOPOLD STOKOWSKI

The Eastern United States premiere of Igor Stravinsky's controversial composition, "Canticum Sacrum," with Leopold Stokowski on the conductor's stand to lead the Symphony of the Air, highlights the third week's program of the Empire State Music Festival, Ellenville, Thursday, July 18. A repeat performance will be given on Saturday, July 20.

Sharing the spotlight with the Stravinsky work will be Carl Orff's "Carmina Burana," which Stokowski will also conduct.

The American Concert Choir, under the direction of Margaret Hillis, will be a feature of the Stravinsky-Orff programs. Rudolf Petrak, tenor, and Philip Maero, baritone, will be soloists for the "Canticum Sacrum." Uta Graf, soprano, augments the two soloists for the Orff work. The "Canticum Sacrum," commissioned by the Venice International Festival of Contemporary Music, and composed in honor of St. Mark, patron Saint of Venice, was first heard at the Cathedral of St. Mark on September 13, 1956. The American premiere was held in Los Angeles on June 17, 1957.

"Carmina Burana," written by Carl Orff 21 years ago, and which had its premiere in Frankfurt in 1937, was first heard in America in January, 1954, in San Francisco. Leopold Stokowski conducted the East Coast premiere of the composition at Carnegie Hall in June, 1955.

Maestro Stokowski, incidentally, made his first appearance at the Empire State Music Festival last summer when he won critical acclaim conducting the American premiere of Orff's music to Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Round out the program for the third week will be a repeat performance of Richard Strauss' "Elektra," under the baton of Laszlo Halasz on Friday evening, July 19, and a concert, Sunday afternoon, July 21, in which Morton Gould will conduct the Symphony of the Air in a varied program called "Summer Music." The "Elektra" cast includes Virginia Copeland, Elisabeth Hoengen, Ellen Faulk, Marcello Di Giovanni and Michael Bondon. Leopold Sachse staged the opera.

Wawarsing Given $1,000 For Recreation Plans

The town of Wawarsing has been allocated $1,000 in state aid for a recreation project for a 12-month period, the New York State Youth Commission announced today.

An application for State aid submitted by Supervisor Donald A. Sprague indicates that the town will spend a total of $5,100 during the year to provide a recreation program. Activities to be provided include swimming instructions, arts and crafts, baseball, basketball, amateur boxing and bus trips to historic spots.

Facilities to be used include Kerhonkson School, Napanoch School, Ellenville School, Recreation Center, Kerhonkson Youth Commission pool and baseball fields.

The agency responsible for the conduct of the program is the Recreation Committee of which Donald A. Sprague is chairman. Co-directors of recreation are Roland Riegel, Vernon Kelder and Reuben Benson.

The town of Wawarsing is one of more than 1,000 municipalities that have participated in the State Youth Commission's annual $6,000,000 youth program. This is the 10th year

Summer Favorite Printed Pattern

Woodstock Playhouse To Give O'Neill Play

If ever there was a time to see an O'Neill play, it is now. Truly this has been an O'Neill year, as four plays by him were on the Broadway boards this season. The Playhouse could not let the summer go by without one of his plays, and so the next production of the Woodstock Playhouse will be Eugene O'Neill's "Desire Under the Elms." Starting Tuesday, July 16, it will run through Sunday, July 21. It is a drama of three tragic heroes—characters on a New England farm that are earthly, primitive people. The play seeks to confer a heroic dignity on motives and deeds usually thought base, and O'Neill's attempts to turn his tale of adultery and infanticide into something of a modern Oedipus where strong passions gain a kind of glory.

Dana Elcar will be Ephraim Cabot, the father who describes himself as "hard-like a stone—a rock o' judgment"; Carlton Colyer will play Eben the weak son who matures, proves his manhood; Salome Jens will portray the rapacious, sensuous stepmother who covets the farm and everything on it. Robert Baines and Burt Burger will be Simeon and Peter, the other two sons and Ed Preble will be the Fiddler. Cy will be done by Robert Baines.

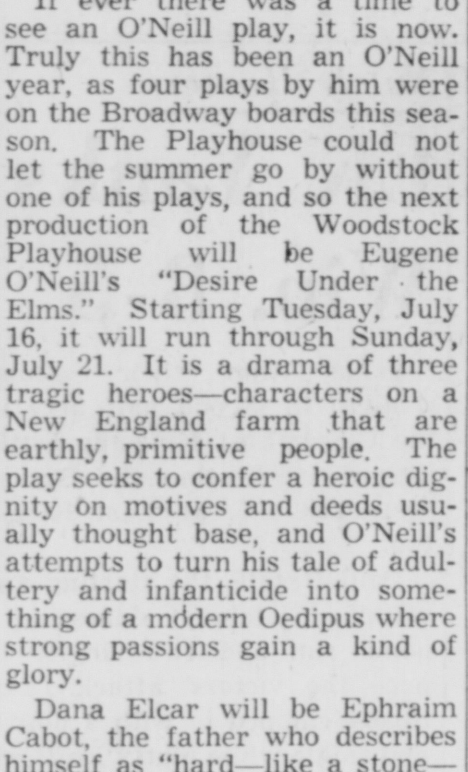

Salome Jens, the former Wisconsin, who will have the lead in "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" attended Northwestern University and the University of Wisconsin, has studied dance under Martha Graham and is an accomplished pianist. Broadway saw her last year in "Sixth Finger on a Five Finger Glove" and "Affairs of Anatol." Numerous engagements on TV and radio have kept Miss Jens busy for the past few years.

Dana Elcar (Ephraim) was one of the organizers of the Arts Theatre in Ann Arbor where he directed about twenty plays in three years, some of which include "Oleto," Ibsen's "Master Builder." In New York Mr. Elcar played the part of Cobbler in the comedy smash-hit "Oh Men, Oh Women." He has also been seen with the Hume Cronyn and Jessica Tandy in "The Honeyes," where he played the part of "Potts."

Carlton Colyer appearing here for the third time this season, wandered from the Ringling Brothers Circus to Merchant Seaman, to Princeton University, into the Marine Corp., and then to the American Theatre Wing. Soon came TV spots, movie commercials and bits and some varied summer theatre experiences.

Mr. Colyer recently finished a 20-week season at James-town, Pa. playing 20 varied roles. He was recently seen in the Robert Montgomery Playhouse.

Will Attend CLU Graduate Studies At Connecticut U

HERMAN J. EATON

Herman J. Eaton, chartered life underwriter, president of Herman J. Eaton, Inc., local insurance agency, will leave July 11 for a 10-day program of graduate studies in financial security planning at the 15th CLU Institute at the University of Connecticut.

Mr. Eaton is one of about 160 CLUs who are registered to attend three institutes conducted this summer for members of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters.

The schools are not concerned with sales training, but are designed to teach the life underwriter to understand the problems of his clients and to make individual recommendations as a financial counselor.

Mr. Eaton maintains an office for estate planning in the professional building at 286 Clinton avenue for the purpose of providing personal and business planning services to those in need of such counseling. He is presently chairman of the Board of Directors of Talmud Torah, Inc., first vice-president of Congregation Agudas Achim and vice president of Capital District and Daughters of Sarah Jewish Home for the Aged at Troy.

Estate planning, pensions, and retirement, taxation, trusts, economic of credit, profit sharing plans, and probate procedures are among the subjects covered at the CLU Institutes. Students pursue their advanced studies under a faculty of prominent attorneys, actuaries, pension consultants, professors, life underwriters and trust men.

Time at the Institutes is divided between lectures and small group discussions designated to permit students to explore the various subjects by means of intimate discussions with instructors.

Kellar Returns From Convention, Seminar Parleys

Attorney Norman Kellar

Attorney Norman Kellar has returned from a week's stay in New York city where he attended the 11th annual convention of the National Association of Claimants Attorneys and the Melvin Belli Seminar in Recent Trends in the Law of Torts. Both the convention and seminar were held in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel where 700 to 800 attorneys were present from almost all of the states in the Union and Puerto Rico.

The NACA has a membership of 6,000 lawyers in all parts of the U. S. who are primarily interested in representing persons who are injured in contra distinction to defendants or insurance company lawyers who defend claims for personal injuries.

Specialists Talk The four-day session sought by a series of lectures by outstanding medical specialists to give the lawyers an understanding of medical problems involved in both ordinary and unusual personal injury cases. Papers were also read by lawyers who tried interesting and unusual cases during the past year. The novel feature of this year's convention was a clinic conducted by experts in various fields of personal injury law. Lawyers attending the clinic came before the panel of experts and discussed with them various problems in connection with cases currently in their offices.

The last two days were given over to the Belli Seminar. Melvin Belli has been called by Life Magazine "The King of Torts." Mr. Belli has gained a national reputation as an exponent of the use of demonstrative evidence at trials; this term simply means getting the facts and circumstances of the accident across to the jury not alone by words but also by the use of maps, diagrams, charts, models, photographs, etc.

Topics Discussed Among the topics discussed were: the recent international and local airlines crashes with special reference to the Warsaw Convention; the recent TWA-United crash in the Grand Canyon; the Cutter Laboratory suits (Salk Vaccine); the availability of FBI records in court; the rise in wrongful death awards; the cigarette-cancer cases; the Confidential magazine suits; and many others.

Among some of the prominent speakers were: Irving M. Gottlieb, trial attorney in the Civil Division of the Department of Justice, who discussed "The Federal Tort Claims Act" of which he is the author; William Wright, attorney in charge of the Subrogation Section, Office of the Solicitor of the United States Department of Labor spoke; Dr. Nicholas Eastman, Head of Obstetrics at Johns Hopkins Hospital; Dr. Paul David Cantor, Professor of Law at Georgetown University and a general practitioner; and Alfred W. Gans, managing editor of American Law Reports; and many other experts in their fields.

The first CLU Institute was conducted by the American Society in 1947 at the University of Connecticut. Attending these summer seminars is an exclusive privilege of membership in the American Society, and membership in the Society in turn is available to persons who hold the CLU (Chartered Life Underwriter) designation.

Must Pass Five Exams

The CLU designation is granted by the American College of Life Underwriters to life insurance men and women who have passed a series of five professional examinations in such subjects as law, estates and trusts, taxation, economics, personal and business finance as well as property, health and life insurance; and in addition have met other professional requirements set by the American College.

The CLU Institutes are regarded as a continuation of the educational process, and are intended to keep the Chartered Life Underwriter abreast of important changes in pertinent laws and rulings and to offer him additional training in the application of his knowledge in the interests of his client.

Intensive Programs

"The programs of these graduate summer schools are intensive ones, condensing a two-week schedule into a week and a long weekend," says Leroy G. Steinbeck, CLU managing director of the American Society and director of CLU Institutes. Professional minded CLUs will find that the learning method will give them the benefit of complete saturation in important aspects of financial security for clients, and accordingly should equip them as never before to serve their fellow men at home."

Phoenicia Baptists Plan Bible School

A Daily Vacation Bible School will be held in the Phoenicia Baptist Church July 15 through July 26. There will be classes for children aged 3½ and above. All are cordially invited to attend.

The teachers and helpers are as follows:

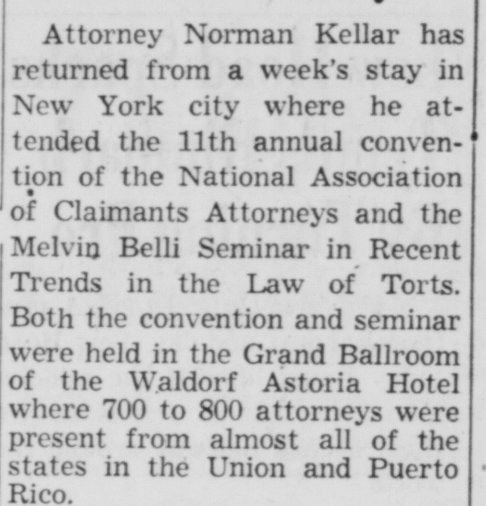

Beginners—Mrs. Frank Krein, Mrs. Andrew Krein, Mrs. Willis Gardner and Mrs. Ernest Estes. Primaries — Mrs. Florence Hageney, Mrs. Ansel Perkins, Mrs. Ralph Longyear, Miss Esther Riskey and Mrs. Marjorie Keator.

Juniors—the Rev. Mrs. Evangeline Keesler and Miss Janet Webb. Intermediates — the Rev. Ernest Estes.

There is still a need for helpers in the school, and for those who will transport the children to and from the school in cars.

Cologne toilet water was created in honor of Colonia Agrippina, mother of Roman Emperor Nero.

Mike Bruhn Fires 81 to Pace Qualifiers in Elks Golf

Eyles Second With 84 Score In Field of 33

To the surprise of almost no one, 14-year-old golf phenom Mike Bruhn will lead 12 of the area's top young swingers into the second annual New York State Elks Junior golf championships come next Monday at the Wiltwyck Country Club.

Bruhn fired a steady low score of 81 yesterday at Wiltwyck to head a qualifying field of 33 hopefuls.

Competing in the under-15 division, the Twaalfskill Club sharpshooter carded solid rounds of 44-37 to outdistance by three strokes Dave Eyles who paced the 15-18 group. Bruhn will be defending his division crown which he won at Auburn last year in Monday's play.

Other Qualifiers

Other qualifiers in the under-15 bracket and their scores include: Buzz Castello (89); Lauren Beaver (98); Ron Riggs (98); Bill Huber (99) and Jay Gordon (100). John Knutson of Woodstock Country Club qualified with a 96, but won't be in town for the tourney and thus turned down the chance. Gordon was named in his place.

Bill Parmelee was runner-up to Eyles in the older group with an 88 which was the third best effort of the day. The remaining qualifiers are Richard Diers (90); Ted Bruhn (92); Dennis Beaver (94) and Robert Gessex (96).

Mike Bruhn wrapped up the victory by parring the final eight holes. After getting a bogie five on the 10th, he fired scores of 3, 5, 4, 4, 3, 5, 4 to finish with a flurry and post a sizzling 37.

Eyles rallied from a 44 on the front nine to a tidy 40 coming home for his total of 84.

Parmelee also started slowly, shooting a sluggish 47, but spliced a 41 on the back nine to beat out Castello.

Youthful Looking Golfer

Little Buzzy, who is 14 but looks much younger, put together rounds of 46 and 43 to stay below the 90 mark.

Mike Bruhn and Eyles earned trophies for winning their divisions. Medals are also in line for the second and third place finishers in both divisions. The awards will be made Monday at a tourney banquet.

Sixteen of the players were from Twaalfskill, 11 from Woodstock and seven from Wiltwyck. Primo Montafia, local chairman, supervised the play. Competition Monday will be in four divisions—for boys and girls under 15 and over 15, but under 18 years of age.

Low Hoad Sparks Tennis Rhubarb By Turning Pro

New York, July 9 (AP)—A professional just one day, Lew Hoad today found himself the middleman in a war of tennis nerves that reached halfway around the world.

Hoad, the big Australian Davis Cup star, signed yesterday to play for Jack Kramer's troupe for the fattest figure ever given a pro player—$125,000 for two years.

In rapid-fire order: 1. Pancho Gonzales, the man Hoad was signed to play, said he would not appear in Kramer's "tournament of champions" starting Saturday in Forest Hills.

2. The Lawn Tennis Assn. of Australia launched a move to ban Hoad and Kramer's entire tour from playing on any official courts down under.

The sudden turns of events left Hoad, who only last Friday won his second straight Wimbledon championship, bewildered. He was especially hurt at remarks by officials in Australia, accusing him of breaking his word.

Don Ferguson, president of the LTAA, said Hoad caused "great disappointment to the tennis public and officials in Ireland, Europe and America in which countries we had arranged for him to play as a member of the Australian team."

"I don't know why Mr. Ferguson said those things," said Hoad, obviously distressed.

Gonzales, the pro champion, said in Los Angeles that he would not play in either the Forest Hills tournament or one scheduled to start in Los Angeles, July 29.

Hurt the Gate

"They'll hurt the gate of our tour," scowled Gonzales. He and Hoad are to start a world 100-match tour next January. In last year's tour, Gonzales cut down Hoad's Davis Cup mate, Ken Rosewall, and the year before he crushed Tony Trabert.

Kramer, the money-man, took it all with an air of calm.

"This is a situation like a horse telling a trainer when he can run," said the handsome U. S. Cupper, turned impresario. "Pancho seems to forget he is under contract to me. I want to bring this to a head and I expect to have it cleared up by tomorrow."

Gruner Has 1-Hitter

Dodgers Win, 12-5

Big innings featured the Dodgers' 12-5 victory over the Giants in the Hurley Little League yesterday. The game opened second half play.

Paul Gruner pitched a one-hitter for the Dodgers and that solo blow was Ken Hopper's double. Gruner fanned seven and walked five.

Frick Named for 7 Years With Pact of $65,000 Per

St. Louis, July 9 (AP)—Baseball commissioner Ford Frick, re-elected to a seven-year term at $65,000 per, thinks it is "inconceivable" that New York should become a one-club town.

In the face of consistent reports that the Brooklyn Dodgers are going to Los Angeles and the New York Giants to San Francisco, the commissioner expressed a "purely personal opinion" today.

"I think it is inconceivable that an area with a population of 15 million should have only one franchise," he said. "If the Dodgers and Giants should move—and I am not saying they will—I think the territory should be left open for another team. I think it should be declared open territory for any franchise."

Separate Franchise

"Brooklyn was always considered a separate franchise. That went for the schedule, the radio and TV rights and everything else. Why shouldn't we still consider it that way. It wouldn't make any difference if the team that came in would be in the National or American League."

Frick said baseball law often is obscure on such matters as territorial rights and there were several legal factors involved.

"I am sure legal steps will be taken to establish definite rulings before any franchise moves are made," he said.

The matter of franchise moves came up at the National League meeting, shortly before the 62-year-old Frick was re-elected at the joint meeting of the two leagues for a term running to Sept. 21, 1965. His current term expires in 1958.

President Warren Giles said he brought up the matter himself.

Giles Gets Answer

"I think it is incumbent upon the president of the National League to ask Mr. O'Malley (Walter O'Malley, Dodger president) and Mrs. Stoneham (Horace Stoneham, Giants president) if they have anything definite to report, said Giles. "I turned directly to both men and both answered 'not a thing.'"

The national rejected a proposal by George V. McLaughlin, banker and former police commissioner of New York for a New York franchise in Queens at the old World's Fair site in Flushing Meadows.

A report Cleveland would move to Minneapolis by acquiring the Giants' interests in Minneapolis was denied by Cleveland officials.

Ward Leads Syracuse Amateur Golf Qualifiers

By The Associated Press

John Ward of Syracuse, twice a runner-up for the state amateur golf championship, is headed for another try at the laurels.

Ward clipped three strokes off par as he fired a 68 over the Drumlins course at Syracuse yesterday. His effort was the best of 10 Central New York qualifiers for the state amateur tournament, July 24-28 at Elmira.

He had 33 on the first nine and added 35. A field of 25 entered.

$50,000 Pace

Called Off at Yonkers Raceway

New York, July 9 (AP)—The lure of a $50,000 purse has failed to reverse the shortage of trotters operating at Yonkers Raceway.

Martin Tananbaum, Yonkers president, said yesterday not enough entries were received for the long-planned $50,000 Transamerica Pace so he cancelled the race.

He announced the cancellation after a federal district court judge denied a motion to punish members of the Standardbred Owners Assn. for contempt in allegedly failing in concert to enter horses at the raceway.

At the same time, the judge, Archie O. Dawson, directed an injunction be issued prohibiting the SOA "from endeavoring to induce owners of harness horses not to ship horses to the Yonkers Raceway or not to race at the Yonkers Raceway."

Both motions arose out of a dispute over the distribution of purses between the owners group and the race track.

The Transamerica was a series of races held at several tracks, horses accumulated points to become eligible for the final race.

Tananbaum said the track would substitute a $50,000 Harness Tracks of America invitation for Saturday. Entries will close tomorrow at Pat & George's extended its lead to one full game in the City Softball League by defeating Prospect Dairy, 6-3, yesterday while Miron Lumber was dumping second place Chez Emile, 15-4.

Frank Coulard threw a six-hitter for P & G's as his club recorded their 10th win as against five losses. Don Jayne stroked two doubles and Coulard a pair of singles to pace an eight hit attack. Jayne's blows drove in three runs.

Cassella Triples, Doubles
Roy Cassella slammed a triple and double to lead the Lumberjacks to their lopsided win. Bob Sqro also tripled to make things easy for Mike Boyle who twirled an eight-hitter.

Hilltop Rest outslugged Wimpy's 17-9, in a battle of base hits. Each team notched 11 safeties. Frank Boyce got the pitching verdict over John Woods.

Subway Grill pounded Shannon's Grill, 11-4, in other action as Les Barringer homered, and Tony Musto tripled. Tommie Maines weighed in with a double. With that kind of support, Paul Kelderhouse had little difficulty coasting to victory.

Don Wolf rammed a double and two singles to pace the losers. Rizzi and Lindsay hurled for the Grillmen with Rizzi the loser.

Tucker Flips 6-Inning No-Hitter in Tie Game

Herstek Leads Springfield Win

If the Springfield Giants finally have snapped out of their recent slump they have Ed Herstek to thank.

The lively shortstop, after supplying the two-run lead over visiting Schenectady last night, also stopped a ninth-inning threat by manipulating a snappy double play. The 3-1 victory broke a long losing streak for the Giants. Schenectady stayed a half game ahead in the Eastern League, however, as runner-up Reading's game with Binghamton was postponed until tonight because of rain. At Albany, righthander Bill Slack hurled a five-hit 6-3 victory against the Syracuse Chiefs.

Gets 4 Doubles

Murdock Leads Win

Yanks rolled over Dodgers, 20-1, on 18 hits in Esopus Legion Little League yesterday.

Ed Murdock, the winning pitcher, had a big day. He slugged four doubles and fired a neat three-hitter.

Teammate Wayne Johnson belted a homer and two singles. Lou Linn made three singles.

Jack Schussler was the losing hurler.

Olympic King Offered $10,000

Brenner Seeks to Pair Rademacher and Miteff

New York, July 9 (AP)—Teddy Brenner, an imaginative matchmaker, today sought to pair Olympic champion Pete Rademacher and Argentine's Alex Miteff, the 1955 Pan-American king, for New York in August.

"I'm wiring Rademacher an offer of $10,000 to fight Miteff in August," said Brenner after watching the unbeaten Argentine stop Philadelphia's Fernando Fala on cuts in two rounds last night.

"If Rademacher agrees, I'll try and rent Madison Square Garden for the fight."

It was pointed out to Brenner that Rademacher, who never has fought pro, had a commitment to fight world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in Seattle in August, providing Patterson beats Hurricane Jackson in New York July 29.

"If Jack Hurley (Seattle promoter) can dream up a Patterson-Rademacher fight, what's crazy about trying to match the Olympic and Pan-American champs?" asked Brenner.

Miteff Likes Idea
Miteff and his manager, Hymie Wallman, said they'd be happy to take on Rademacher.

Fala, who had a 17-1 record and had won six straight, had two deep, wide cuts over his right eye requiring 15 stitches.

Referee Barney Felix stopped the slambang scrap, after the second round ended, at the suggestion of Dr. Sam Swetnick.

Fala, 6-1 and 200½ pounds, had surprised Miteff, 6-1 and 202½, in the first round by charging right after Alex. The Philadelphia go in some real good smashes. Miteff, however, absorbed the blows and dished out plenty himself in a rousing round. In the second it was all Miteff.

'Realtor' Term To Protect Public, Dirks Declares

Action to prevent improper use of the term, "realtor," is a protection to the public, Frederick Dirks, president of the Ulster County Real Estate Board, said in a statement released today.

Growing protection of use of the term was cited and he noted that "According to records of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, California, Illinois, Kentucky, Nevada, Texas, Washington and the District of Columbia" prohibits use by brokers who are not members of NAREB.

Some state legislatures, still in session, are contemplating enactment of "just such a clause," he said.

The term 'realtor,' has been registered," he said, "as the trademark of the NAREB in the U. S. Patent Office, and the right of the members of the association to its exclusive use has been confirmed by no less than 18 court decisions, including a recent ruling by a U. S. District Court in California.

All realtors, are licensed brokers, he noted, but "only brokers meeting the ethical and professional standards of real estate boards, are taken into membership, and thus become 'realtors,'" he said.

Van Horn Trial Set

Towson, Md., July 9 (P)—Robert J. Van Horn, 52-year-old lumber company executive charged in the fatal beating of his wife, will go on trial here Sept. 9. At his arraignment yesterday, Van Horn pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to the June 1 murder of his 53-year-old wife, Bernice Ward Flynn Van Horn. Circuit Judge Michael Paul Smith set the trial date. Police have charged Van Horn with fatally beating his wife in the driveway of Evergreen Farm, their Baltimore county estate near Shawan last June 1.

Depends on Incomes

Washington, July 9 (P)—The Agriculture Department said today this year's improved price level of beef cattle and hogs will continue another year or more if consumer income stays high. Cattle prices particularly may hold up well and possibly rise further, while pig crop prospects seem to assure sustained hog prices through the summer of 1958. This rather optimistic outlook was given in the department's monthly report on the livestock and meat situation.

Commenting upon the heavy silt that flows in its waters, old timers used to say that the Colorado River is "too thick to drink and too thin to plow."

Summer Recreational Season Is Begun In Town of Ulster With Varied Slate

The Youth Program sponsored by the Town of Ulster in conjunction with the New York State Youth Commission has opened its 1957 summer recreational season, it was announced today.

Supervisor Percy Bush said the program will run for approximately six weeks. George Fernandez of Hurley has been appointed director of the program.

The program was organized by an advisory board consisting of Mr. Bush, Reginald Russell, principal of the Chambers School, Edward Crosby, principal of the Lake Katrine School, Mrs. Teresa DeWitt, principal of the Emma Wygant School, and Mrs. Mildred Rothery, principal of the East Kingston School.

The town board has allotted $1,000 from its budget for the program. The State Youth Commission has agreed to meet the town's contribution with another $1,000.

The Youth Program will consist of various activities and programs throughout the township Monday through Thursday, day and evening.

Tentative Program

The following is a tentative program:

Monday — Chambers School field, 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Evening movies at East Kingston at dusk.

Tuesday morning—Recreation at Chambers, 9 a. m. to 11:15 a. m.

Tuesday afternoon—Swimming 1 to 4 p. m. Bus will pick up.

Tuesday night — Movies at Lake Katrine 7:30 p. m.

Wednesday — Lake Katrine Field, all-day recreation, 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Wednesday night—Movies at Chambers 7:30 p. m.

Thursday morning — Recreation at Chambers, 9 a. m. to 11:15 a. m.

Thursday afternoon — Swimming 1 to 4 p. m. Bus pick up.

Planned activities at the fields will consist of baseball, softball, badminton, dodge ball, punch ball, etc.

During rainy days the facilities of the gymnasiums will be used. Activities there will include volley ball, punch ball, badminton, shuffle board and other appropriate indoor games. During swim days Mrs. Margaret Kyff, a teacher at the Chambers School, will assist Mr. Fernandez at Spring Lake.

The advisory board has also made arrangements to hold instrumental music classes at the Chambers School two days a week beginning Monday, July 15. The classes will be held Monday and Wednesday of each week during the program. The classes will be under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Van Vorhees, music director for the Chambers School.

Transportation will be provided for the children on swimming days. The following will be the tentative bus route: Leave East Kingston bus terminal at 12:30 p. m., proceed to Flatbush avenue, 9W by-pass, 9W to Salty's Store, Neighborhood Road, Boice's Lane, Cook street, Krauss Development, Harwich street, Wrentham street and finally to Spring Lake.

Mr. Fernandez urges all young people to attend and take part in the program. He asks that

Worker Backs Purge

New York, July 9 (P)—The Daily Worker, American Communist newspaper, voiced approval today of the recent shake-up in Soviet leadership. Commenting editorially for the first time on the latest Moscow purge, the worker said the outcome showed a Soviet dedication to the policies of peaceful co-existence and realization of tensions. The newspaper applauded the debate within the Communist party's central committee on the issues posed by the conflict. But the editorial suggested that "matters might have even come to this pass" had there been public discussion of the issues.

Tremor Shakes Cuba

Havana, Cuba, July 9 (P)—A strong earth tremor today shook Santiago De Cuba, second largest city in Cuba. No damages or injuries were reported from the Caribbean port city of 120,000 in Oriente Province.

Graham Resumes Tonight

New York, July 9 (P)—Billy Graham will resume his New York crusade in Madison Square Garden Tonight. The evangelist took last night off to get some rest. The Monday night breaks started last week. The crusade ends July 20.

Ford wins the battle of the builds

Sure! Many people buy Fords because of their long, low, whistle-collecting looks. Do you blame them? But beauty alone isn't enough to earn for a car the No. 1 spot in America's heart. And that's just what Ford has earned. The real secrets of Ford's success are the extra values that go into building a Ford. Let's look at a few of these features. Ford shares them only with a select number of America's most expensive cars. But you get them at low Ford prices.

1. Only Ford in its field has a frame design that lets you ride within the side members for greater roominess, smoothness and safety.

2. Only Ford in its field gives you a modern V-8 engine with rigid, deep-block design for smoother, quieter, longer-lived operation.

3. Only Ford in its field offers automatic variable-rate rear springs that automatically adjust to give a smoother ride on roughest roads.

4. Only Ford in its field offers new swept-back ball-joint front suspension that "rolls with the punch."

5. Only Ford in its field offers as many as five strengthening roof cross members for a more rigid roof.

6. Only Ford offers such a saving-fuel car. A Ford Six beat all other cars in the Mobilgas Economy Run in the miles-per-gallon department.

7. Only Ford in its field offers a frame with 3 tubular cross members. There are 5 cross members in all . . . enabling the frame to withstand stress from all directions.

8. Only Ford electronically balances every V-8 engine while it's operating under its own power.

9. Only Ford in its field offers so much soundproofing for a quieter ride under all road conditions.

10. Only Ford in its field offers such a well sealed body for greater freedom from dust wherever you go.

11. Only Ford in its field offers rear door assist springs and two-position front door checks for easier entrance.
